Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Local Girl Is Married May 8: Miss Ellen Janet Pissel, Epley apartments, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George F. Pissel and John A. Guise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Guise, Harrisburg road, were married May 8, at Thurmont, Maryland, by the Rev. Mr. Corbett, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church.

Mr. Guise is employed at the Gettysburg furniture factory.

Birth Announcement: A daughter was born at the Warner hospital Friday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Gettysburg R. 1.

Negro Defeats Primo in Sixth: New York, June 26 (AP)—The brown bombshell from Detroit, Joe Louis, exploded with shocking violence in a prize ring just off second base at Yankee stadium Tuesday night. He stunned Primo Carnera, monster man from Italy, into helplessness and possibly oblivion in six rounds, and left an amazing crowd of close 70,000 dazed and shell-shocked in his wake.

Local Couple Married: A pretty wedding took place in St. Francis Xavier church Wednesday morning when Miss Anna Marie Dillman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dillman, South Washington street, became the bride of John W. Wisotzky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wisotzky, Breckenridge street. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial high mass at 8 o'clock by Rev. Father Mark E. Stock.

College Summer Sessions Opened: Summer school at Gettysburg college opened Monday with registration of approximately 80 students. Dr. John B. Zinn is director of the summer session.

Maryland Weds Here: Miss Hazel V. Copenhaver, of Gettysburg, and Walter R. Yealy, of Harney, Maryland, were married here Saturday by the Rev. Spencer W. Aungst, pastor of St. James Lutheran church.

Camp Nawakwa Opens Monday: With one hundred and twenty junior and intermediate boys enrolled, Camp Nawakwa, near Brysonia, opened for the summer.

The staff and faculty, besides the Rev. Dr. Fisher, comprises the Rev. Paul Reaser, Anthony Myers, Miss Snyder, Miss Catherine Kerstetter, Miss Dorothy Barrick, the Rev. Dr. W. C. Schaeffer, the Rev. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, Misses Martha and Mary Laird, Mrs. Alexander and Miss Margaret Beard.

Glenn, James Hafer, Sebastian Harman, George March, Carl Menchey, Jr., John Mortensen, William Rice, Samuel Snyder, Claude Stoner, Robert Troxell, Maurice Weaver, Frederick Wentz and Carl Wolfe.

Tru Blu Girls Plan to Camp: Included in a group of Tru Blu girl reserves who left Friday on a week-end camping trip to Rothaupt's mill were Alberta Conti, Mary Ruth Chamberlain, Mildred Collins, Helen Dougherty, Anna Deatrick, Kathleen Dickert, Dorothy Fridinger, Jeanette Frazer, Geraldine Francis, Lena Hartzell, Ruth Kitzmiller, Ruth Linn, Vera Geiman, Grace Reaser, Hope Reaser, Violet Lackner, Betty Martin, Florence Opler, Mary Ruth Rice, Ruth Strausbaugh, Elizabeth Anne Sheffer, Jean Spangler, Helen Sabr, Colleen Thompson, Anna Ulrich, Eleanor Weller, Thelma Warman, Edna Zinn, Ruth Pitenant and Sarah Mehling.

Miss Maude Whitefeather, advisor, and Miss Mildred Anzengruber, Miss Helen Burpion and Miss Ruth Waltemper accompanied the girls.

Tires or no tires, we still place the same importance on the jack.

Call For Diagnosis

One of my readers has spent well over $100 trying to check very poor cold operation of the engine of his 1931 car. I mention it because it will serve to show how unwise it is to go on a wild goose chase in trying to nail down car troubles. His car has no power when cold and when still running under 20 miles per hour. After the engine warms up everything seems to be normal. He has invested in a new coil, condenser, points and spark plugs. Carburetor and choke have been overhauled. The timing was synchronized and everything carefully checked. Well, almost everything. He will find that there is a bad air leak into the intake manifold, probably where the piping joins the block. The manifold could be cracked on the under side where it is not easily seen.

Around The Motor Map

We are told by AAA that a quarter of a century ago school children were dismissed in order that they might behold some passing automobiles. Now any kid can stand on the street corner and count hundreds of wobbly cars that are in process of passing from the picture. Automotive News of Detroit asks, "Is gas rationing coming? It is amazing how some people can make a profit out of what appears to be bad luck. I was reminded of this the other morning when a customer brought his car in for a job and had to be turned down because there were ten other people ahead of him. Instead of hutting the ceiling and then driving off dejected he parked his car down the street and came back to the shop to talk with the mechanics and other owners. He had been complaining of a strange noise in the back of the car and had thought he needed a new shock absorber. In the shop he caught sight of a mechanic greasing the sill of a rear door. That was the solution to the mysterious 'shock absorber' noise.

"This means that when my friend comes back again we'll not be spending a lot of valuable time on simple things that he could remedy himself. We can give him a better job on something which really needs skill and effort."

Just Plain Dilution

More and more the motor man brings a big question mark in some car owners' minds as to how it happens that the oil level will actually increase. Many report to me that after driving a few weeks, following an oil change, the dip stick will report that crankcase contents have increased by a quart or two. Old timers, however, refuse to be mystified. They know this as a plain sign of excessive crankcase dilution. Water may be getting into the oil due to a leak at the cylinder head gasket. Or the oil may be diluted with gasoline resulting from constant escape of gas vapors past the pistons. I've checked into a number of the more persistent cases of dilution and find that in most cases the increased "oil" in the crankcase is gasoline which has condensed after having passed worn rings and cylinders in gas form.

Taking Their Time

If you are one who believes you want to be among the first to buy a new car when they are again available you may be surprised to find you're in the minority. A survey made by a Milwaukee newspaper shows that only 4.2 per cent of motorists want to buy within 30 days of new car production. Most of them—37.2 per cent to be sure—want to wait at least a year. (Please Turn to Page 5)

Just Folks

"In the good old days," my grand-sire said.

"In the good old days by lamps we read
And by ten o'clock we were all in bed."

"In the good old days," my father told.

"We didn't race through life—we strolled.
And sat by stoves when the nights were cold."

In the good old days, which I oft review,
We had telephones and autos, too,
And I think more fun than our youngsters do.

When silver comes to the youthful brow,
They'll learn what only the years allow.
They are living their good old days, right now.

Today's Talk

SIMPLICITY

We run away too much from the simple things of life. They are really the most important, for they are able most to express ourselves. Living the simple life is but another way of saying that you live the broadened life—the full life. There is too much scattering to the complicated life, with so many interests that they mesh and crowd upon each other.

It's really the mind that soars, builds, and scatters its precious stuff to the four winds. The more I read of Thoreau the more I am impressed with his simple greatness—a democrat of the soil, yet a great thinker in a world realm. He said: "By simplicity, commonly called poverty, my life is concentrated and so becomes organized."

Most of our greatest leaders came from simple homes. Poverty-stricken, some of them. But how mighty their influence in after years! To give Daniel Webster an education at Dartmouth College, the father put an extra mortgage upon his farm. Few of the great of this earth ever knew the poverty and simple log home that were Abraham Lincoln's. The simpler the origin of a man, the more understanding he becomes under the weight of responsibility.

We hear a great deal about the "simple life." Well, it's usually the healthiest and most satisfactory life to be lived. It isn't cluttered up with worries and problems. And there is so much room left in which to keep building on to character. Living the simple life, also affords a greater opportunity for one to give of himself—to enlarge his soul, and to grow in spiritual strength.

Another advantage to the simple life—not so many people are apt to envy you! It would be a blessing to the world if they did.

How simple is the life of all those who make up the world of Nature. Each depends upon its own self. Each is self-supporting—and happy in the doing. Each faces hardships and tragedy. But there is no complaining—simply acceptance. Are we less intelligent?

Congress Must Solve Problem Of Entering War Under Charter

(Editor's note: This is the last of a series explaining what the United Nations is, what it will try to do, what remains to be done.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 30 (AP)—One of the most important things—for the United States—does not appear at all in the United Nations charter. It is this:

The organization's Security Council—we'll have a representative on it—can call upon the armies of the members to crush an aggression.

But who in this country will give the go-ahead signal for sending our armies into action?

Will it be Congress? Under our constitution only Congress can declare war. Or will it be the President?

Could he do it on his own hook? Would he need approval from Congress? Or would he be needed?

Needs Clarification

Our representative on the Security Council will, of course, vote only as he is instructed by the American government, either Congress or the President.

This is an extremely important and delicate point which must be cleared up. Congress will have to do the clearing. It seems certain to pass some law laying down the procedure.

But if the Security Council voted to call on the United Nations' armies to crush an aggression, would it really be a war in the sense we have come to know it?

If our army joined up with the armies of, say six other nations to mop up some fairly small aggressor, it hardly could be called a contest.

But how large an army and air force and fleet would we put at the disposal of the United Nations in case of an emergency?

Size Poses Problem

We probably would agree to allow only some percentage of our total force to be used by the United Nations.

Even so, how large would it be? This problem hasn't been settled yet for us or any other member of the United Nations.

When it is worked out—our own army and navy chiefs will have a hand in it—we will agree to provide so many men and machines when needed.

Then the Senate must ratify the agreement just as it must ratify our joining the United Nations in the first place.

COUNTY NEEDS $161,380 FOR E BOND QUOTA

Adams county is $161,380 short of its $700,000 E Bond quota in the "Mighty Seventh" war loan campaign. $180,040 oversubscribed in its $760,000 quota of other types of bonds, other than E, to individuals and $1,236,778 oversubscribed in its $650,000 corporate bond quota.

That's the situation in the county as the seventh bond drive nears its official close at midnight tonight. Bonds processed through July 7 midnight will be credited against the county quota.

Total sales in the county of all types of bonds to everybody is $3,364,533 and an oversubscription of $1,233,413, of $2,110,000 quota.

Set National Record

Washington, June 29 (AP)—The "Smash-Japan" 7th War Loan is the biggest of them all.

Bond sales have reached $21,639,000,000, breaking the previous record of $21,621,000,000 made in the 6th War Loan last winter.

The drive ends tonight. It began seven weeks ago, May 14, a few days after the defeat of Germany.

Although the 14-billion-dollar overall quota has been snowed under, not all quotas have been reached. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said in a statement "we still need every dollar that can be subscribed by individuals for E-bonds."

E-bond sales are $3,071,000,000, or 76.7 per cent of the 4-billion-dollar quota.

Individual sales, which include the E-bond, are $6,910,000,000, or 98.7 per cent of the 7-billion individual quota.

Corporation sales are $14,729,000,000, more than twice the 7-billion corporate quota.

The Treasury always has aimed at financing the war as largely as possible out of individuals' pocket-books in order to hold down the amount of idle cash during a time of merchandise shortages. The more cash there is, say the economists, the greater the danger of rising prices and inflation.

Here And There News Collected At Random

This story has been making the rounds locally for several days. Local undertakers deny that it happened at their place but, without confirmation or qualification, we give it to you just too darn good to keep.

Here 'tis:

A local woman planned to attend the last rites for a deceased friend. On her way to the mortician's she stopped at a millinery store and purchased a new hat, one of those flowery jobs. At the mortician's door, not wanting to be bothered with a hat bag during the service, asked the attendant "will you take care of this package for me, please?"

When the curtains or doors parted for the opening of the service, our good friend saw her newly purchased and never-worn chapeau, resting among the floral pieces. She was dumfounded and perplexed but soon formulated plans to retrieve her hat. . . . she would join the mourners for a farewell look at the deceased at the close of the service, and recover her hat.

But her plan went awry. She was literally "squeezed" out of the mourners' line, and the mortician's attendants carried the floral pieces, including her hat, to a waiting motor vehicle to be removed to the cemetery. Still undaunted, and determined, our lady friend walked out to the cemetery, attended the committal rites and then stepped from view to wait until the mourners had left the cemetery. Then, dashing to the mound of floral pieces she retrieved her hat and went merrily on her way home.

As the story goes, the victim of this yarn, is said to have related the facts to one of her friends. . . . and, as usual, it was too good to keep.

There may be a moral to this story: Never buy anything you can't wear for a hat, or give for a floral piece.

Bendersville Jail, Relic Of Olden Days, Had Few Occupants In Half A Century

By LEIGHTON C. TAYLOR

This story has to do with penal institutions generally, and with the Bendersville jail in particular.

Sometimes since the writer described in these columns Bendersville's many and varied enterprises, (industrial, social, and religious), which functioned and flourished during the period popularly known as the Gay '90's, or, as characterized more recently, "The Horse and Bug Days"; and told how most of these activities, many of which had become institutions and landmarks in our little mountain town, gradually folded up and disappeared with the advent of the automobile, and the resultant rapid and convenient means of transportation to urban and populous centers.

Due to some inconceivable oversight, however, one of Bendersville's most interesting and continuing landmarks was omitted from my historical recital. It is none other than our symbol of law and order, the municipality's jail or so-called lockup. That we have such an institution will, I am sure, come as a surprise, if not a shock, to readers of The Times who are more or less familiar with this peaceful community, and with the circumspect and law-abiding character of our industrious, liberty-loving, church-going citizens.

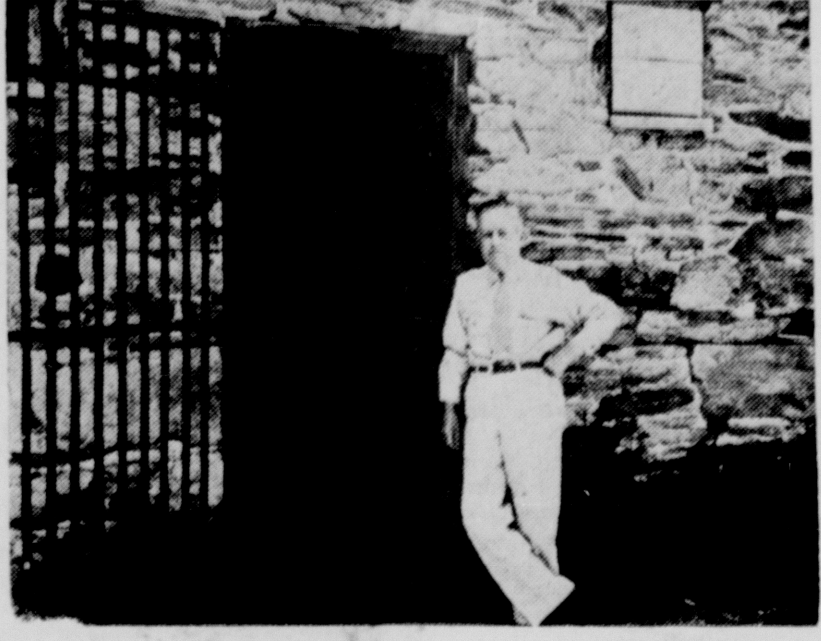

But the American jail, the counterpart of the English gaol, and the French jolite, together with the High Sheriff and the Constable, always has been an important and necessary adjunct to the administration of justice. These buildings, in the counties, usually are located at the county seat, while a convenient and available site is utilized in the larger political subdivisions.

Distinguished Characters

No more romantic, tragic, and exciting episodes are to be found anywhere than are those which have become associated with the jails, prisons, the houses of detention in this and other lands. For a thousand years the Tower of London has been famous and notorious in song and story, and has played an important role in the lives, literature, and history of the English people. It not only is the repository of the Crown Jewels and Regalia, but within its ancient walls have languished, from time to time, for political and other reasons, some of England's most notable and distinguished characters. Among them, Queen Elizabeth while a Princess, Sir Walter Raleigh, and Ann Boleyn and Catherine Howard, Queens of Henry VIII, both of whom were beheaded in the Tower and are buried beneath it.

Our own commonwealth's founder, William Penn, at the age of 24, was an inmate of the Tower for several months, imprisoned there at the behest of the Bishop of London who disagreed with Penn's religious philosophy. During his confinement Penn occupied the time with writing. His book, entitled, "No Cross, No Crown," proved to be his best and most famous, and is the only one that has survived and is republished from time to time.

"Pilgrim's Progress," one of the most widely read of all books, the Bible excepted, was conceived and written while its author, John Bun- (Please Turn to Page 5)

Leighton C. Taylor, Esq., Bendersville attorney and author of the accompanying article, is shown at the entrance to the ancient and unused Bendersville jail. He consented to pose for this picture at the request of a photographer from the staff of The Gettysburg Times.

Mercury Smacks 94 Degrees Today

While the entire eastern seaboard sweltered in the current heat wave, the thermometer hit 94 degrees at 11 o'clock this morning in Gettysburg, recording the hottest day of the year here. The temperature can be expected to go even higher by mid-afternoon.

Friday night was the hottest night of the year with the minimum reading at 75 degrees on Dr. Henry Stewart's recording thermometer. Friday's official noon reading was 90, but an unofficial reading placed the temperature as high as 100 degrees in the shade, later in the day.

CAR TIRE QUOTA IS BOOSTED IN 10-COUNTY AREA

To meet hot weather replacements, this 10-county district's quota of passenger car tires allocated for civilian motorists during July has been increased to 16,016. It was announced today at the Harrisburg District OPA office.

This is 3,164 more tires than were available in the district in June when the allocation was 12,852.

"The month's quota of tires allocated to OPA for rationing should meet the immediate requirements of the most essential drivers," Walter C. Young, District OPA Director, said. "Only 'B' and 'C' ration holders are eligible for new tires and these drivers, as well as 'A' card holders, who must depend solely on their present tires, must continue to conserve their tires in every way possible. Motorists whose tires can be recapped are not eligible for new tires and should not apply."

Other Increases

"Conservation must be practiced just as diligently this summer as it has been in the past or a large number of cars will be out of service before fall. Most motorists have stretched the life of their tires far longer than it was believed possible until the war made it necessary. They have done an excellent job and have made an important contribution to the war effort on the home front."

The July quota of truck and bus tires, size 8-25 and larger is 2,118 for the district, compared with the June allocation of 1,453. The month's quota for trucks and buses using tire size 7-50 and under is 2,333 as against 2,169 in June.

The July tractor-implement quota for the district is slightly increased over June being 515 of sizes 7-50 and smaller as against 494 in June, and 367 of the sizes 7-50 and larger as compared with 271 in June.

Sgt. Paul F. McCleaf Receives Discharge

S. Sgt. Paul F. McCleaf, husband of Mrs. Jean Bucher McCleaf, 28 Carlisle street, was discharged from the Army Friday at Indiantown Gap. Sgt. McCleaf was discharged under the point system, having a total of 95 points.

He entered the service June 4, 1941, and trained at Aberdeen, Md.; Langley Field, Va., and Bolling Field, Washington, D. C., before going to Scotland in January, 1943. Sgt. McCleaf was later stationed in England, North Africa, Italy and Corsica. He spent about a year at Corsica and was a member of the 2008th Ordnance Maintenance company, Air Force.

Sgt. McCleaf has received the Good Conduct medal, the European-African theatre ribbon with four battle stars, American Defense ribbon and a presidential unit citation.

T-5 Bernard J. Weaver, center square, New Oxford, was also among those receiving discharges Friday at Indiantown Gap.

BOOTH OPENS MONDAY

The subscription headquarters booth for the VFW Welfare and Building fund will open at Hotel Gettysburg Monday instead of today as previously reported. Monday was set as the date in order not to conflict with the current War Loan drive.

BERRIES BRING GOOD PRICES

Raspberries brought a high early season price of 35 cents a quart this morning at the Farmers' market house and dressed chickens were not in sufficient quantity to meet the demand at 59 cents a pound.

Live barred rock cockerles sold rapidly at 36 cents a pound and the demand was greater than the supply.

Shelled peas were large and plentiful, selling at 25 cents a quart. Radishes brought five cents a bunch and lettuce sold at 10 cents a box or five cents a head.

Spring onions were plentiful at five cents a bunch and met good demand.

Montmorency cherries were selling in small quantities at 25 cents a quart, but most of the sour cherries have been promised to processors and little are expected on the market this season, with the price ranging from 13 cents to 14 cents at the canneries.

Eggs were fairly plentiful at 48 cents a dozen and demand was fair. Wax beans and green beans sold at 35 cents a quarter peck or 20 cents a quart, while unshelled peas brought only 15 cents a quart.

Weather Forecast

Continued warm and humid with occasional showers and thunderstorms tonight. Sunday partly cloudy with local showers followed by slightly cooler.

3 Rescued From Shangri-La By Glider And A Tow-Plane

By RALPH MORTON

Hollandia, New Guinea, June 29 (Delayed) (AP) — A hazel-eyed WAC and two airmen companions were snatched sensationally to safety over 10,000-foot mountains by a glider and tow-plane in 80 minutes yesterday. They had been marooned 47 days in a lost valley accessible only by parachute.

Today, the same glider-transport combination will attempt to remove an American Army captain, a movie cameraman and eight Filipino troopers who parachuted to the aid of the castaways and built the airstrip that made their release possible.

At least two trips will be necessary, and the WAC, Cpl. Margaret Hastings, 30, of Oswego, N. Y., gamely declared she'd like to go back and watch the rescue of her rescuers from the valley 150 miles southwest of here. But go back to "reign" in the valley?

"No," she said, with twinkling eyes and a toss of her wind-blown hair, "the native women offered to make a throne but I refused."

"What I want most is a shower and a permanent wave."

Cpl. Hastings, Lt. John B. McCollom, of Trenton, Md., and Sgt. Kenneth Decker of Kelso, Wash., were the only survivors of a plane crash that killed 20 Army personnel on the Orange mountain valley of the valley May 13.

They had been on an aerial sight-seeing tour of the strange area, which has been dubbed "Shangri-La" after the James Hilton book on a Tibetan utopia. Suddenly they found themselves — like the characters in the book — trapped in a place from which there was no apparent escape.

At headquarters here today they told their story.

Dazed and bleeding, they found themselves on the slope near the burning plane. Two other fellow passengers were alive. McCollom gave them morphine to ease the pain of their wounds, but both died within 24 hours. Among the dead was McCollom's twin brother.

Rides Bicycle He Used 50 Years Ago

W. C. Hanawalt, 333 Baltimore street, can be seen almost daily riding a bicycle—the same one he rode here from Roaring Springs just 50 years ago on Sunday.

Mr. Hanawalt rode here July 1, 1895 from Roaring Springs while enroute to a teachers' convention at Mt. Getz. Upon learning the Buford monument on the battlefield was to be dedicated that day he decided to remain here for several days with a friend and attend the exercises before continuing on his journey.

The bicycle is in very good condition—tires have been replaced several times, however.

BOMBS WILL BE ALLIED ANSWER TO JAP THREATS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The old Shoguns are rattling their swords and playing the swashbuckler amidst all the settings of a buzz-saw melodrama as the Allied D-Day for Japan approaches—that is, it would be melodramatic if so many terrible actualities weren't involved.

We have something here that has come out of the middle ages, but it's no Gilbert and Sullivan opera.

The Japanese government tells us that our invasion of the home-land will be resisted by every man and woman to the death. The Mikado's captains also threatens us with secret suicide weapons.

Well, what's the answer to that? First off, we can accept these threats as representing the intention of the war-lords. It isn't bluff. We know that there are many Japanese men and women who are ready to make a suicidal defense of the home-land. We know, too, that the Japanese have developed secret weapons, for recently several of them have come into action, including a new type of rocket bomb.

Can They Make Good

So Tokyo's announcements are, in fact, backed by some truth and plenty of determination. However, the important point to consider is whether they will be able to implement their determination — to make good their threats.

We remember that only a few months ago Germany was declaring she would win with secret weapons—a claim which was treated rather lightly in some Allied quarters. But the Hitlerites did indeed have secret weapons which were nasty affairs—and they were on the verge of producing something much more devastating.

There was, for example, the projected rocket bomb capable of accuracy at a range of 3,000 miles.

But it didn't get into production, and the reason was that British bombers damaged the German experimental stations and killed some 800 of Nazidom's best rocket experts. Before the Germans could repair this loss, the Allies knocked them out. And the lesson of the rocket bomb wasn't an isolated example. The whole Reich war potential was ripped to pieces with bombs.

Islands Surrounded

This will be the answer to the Shoguns as well. The Japanese news agency Domei has told its public that American planes based on Okinawa are opening the battle for air supremacy over the southern home island of Kyushu, but that this is only "a curtain raiser to the decisive battle of the Japanese homeland."

Tokyo boasts that Jap war industries are being shipped to Manchuria. That's a lie, because the Allies control the seas. Some industries were moved to Manchuria a considerable time ago—but not these days.

The Mikado's home domains are surrounded and have no way of escape.

Birth Announcements

A son was born at the Warner hospital this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Dean R. Gardner, 227 Steinwehr avenue.

Daughters were born at the hospital Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zimmerman, Gettysburg R. 5, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Valentine, Emmitsburg.

CUT IN RELIEF

A decrease of $5.70 in direct relief payments to Adams countians for the week ending Friday as compared to the previous week was reported today by Ramsey S. Black, state treasurer. Payments this week were $354.70 as compared to $349 last week.

Eight Jap Oil Target Bombed; Fear New Thrust

Manila, June 30 (AP)—The Allied fleet off Balikpapan, Borneo, is increasing in size, Tokyo radio said today, and now includes 41 ships plus "several" transports—twice the size reported by the enemy two weeks ago.

Under cover of "furious bombardments" Allied small craft approach shore to carry out "close and careful reconnaissance," related the Domei dispatch, monitored by the Federal Communications commission.

The broadcast was unconfirmed although Gen. Douglas MacArthur acknowledged today that guns of "light naval units" have taken up the bombardment of the oil-rich eastern Borneo coast.

Landing "Imminent"

Domei reiterated that an Allied landing in the Balikpapan area is "imminent," and said "since the night of June 25, enemy warships and planes have been engaged in a continuous reconnaissance of our coastal positions." Eight cruisers, 10 destroyers, minesweepers and subchasers "carry out furious bombardments against coastal installations," the dispatch added.

MacArthur said light naval units raided shore targets on Borneo, south of Tarakan island, at night after combined Fifth, 13th and RAAP attacks Thursday dumped 281 tons of bombs on Balikpapan's warehouse district. The total bomb load dropped in the past two weeks is more than 2,500 tons.

The steady red glow of mounting flames at Balikpapan undoubtedly is not due entirely to attacks, however. The enemy doubtless has been sabotaging oil wells there as he did at Seria and Miri, North Borneo petroleum centers where Australian salvage crews already are at work.

Allies Use New Oil

Oil wells on recaptured Tarakan, off Borneo's east coast, already are pumping fuel into Allied storage tanks—two months after D-Day.

In the Davao area of Mindanao, the first sizable haul of Japanese civilians surrendered to American troops. Associated Press Correspondent Richard Bergholz in a dispatch from Eighth Army headquarters said 75 Japanese women and children walked into American lines to be interned.

TELL PLANS TO LIST DEALERS

Plans for registration of sellers of used cars, used trucks and used motorcycles who want to charge warranted prices on and after August 1 were explained today by District OPA Director Walter C. Young.

"In order to protect buyers from illegal charges we must be sure that sellers who charge warranted prices have repair and service facilities which enable them to fulfill the conditions of the warranty. We have discovered that many sellers who lack facilities for making the repairs the warranty calls for are charging warranted prices," Mr. Young said.

Each seller wishing to charge warranted prices on or after August 1, 1945, should obtain an application for an "Authorization to Sell at Warranted Prices" from his War Price and Rationing board. In this application dealers must record information about their repair and service facilities. This must be mailed to the District OPA office on or before August 1, 1945.

Display Authorization

Sellers wishing to obtain "Authorization to Sell at Warranted Prices" must establish the facts of adequate repair and service facilities. They will be mailed authorizations. No warranted price sales can be made on or after August 1, 1945, unless the authorization is displayed at the seller's place of business.

"On or after August 1, 1945, buyers should look for this authorization before they pay warranted prices," Mr. Young said.

All other authorizations to charge warranted prices, including special authorizations issued to dealers in the past, become null and void August 1.

CHURCH NOTICE

Sunday School will be at 10 a.m. Sunday at the Church of the Brethren and worship service will be at 11 a.m.

BUY EXTRA BONDS

PRICE THREE CENTS

Guam, June 30 (AP) — The B-29 knockout campaign against oil plants on Japan was extended last midnight to the eighth rich target.

Raiding the enemy homeland for the second time in one day, nearly 50 Superforts bombed the Kudumatsu Oil Refining plant with high explosives. The plant, Nippon's fourth largest, is on the inland sea coast of southwest Honshu.

(Tokyo radio, in a broadcast heard by the American Broadcasting company, said at noon the same day B-29's raided the southwest area of Hokkaido island and 1 was damaged by interceptors.

The Federal Communications Commission heard Tokyo say that last night 10 "large enemy planes" sowed mines in the north Honshu harbors of Niigata and Sakata).

Heavy Destruction

The 21st bomber command, announcing the Kudumatsu raid today, disclosed that since the big bombers began hitting oil installations on Japan May 10 they have destroyed: 73 per cent of the Koriyama Chemical plant; 59 per cent of the Hodaigaya Chemical plant at Koriyama; 45 per cent of the Otake Oil refinery; all tanks of the Tokuyama Naval oil storage facilities; 50 per cent of the Tokuyama synthetic fuel plant roof area and 32 per cent of the by-product storage tanks; 70 per cent of the storage tanks and 90 per cent of the buildings at the Oshima Naval oil storage facilities, Tokuyama.

Photographic assessment remains to be made of the damage wrought on the Utsube river oil refinery near Yakkachi June 26 and on the Kudumatsu plant last night.

Pre-Dawn Strike

The raid at Kudumatsu followed a pre-dawn strike Friday by nearly 500 Superforts at the big naval base of Sasebo and two other port cities on Kyushu and the industrial city of Okayama on Honshu which started such big fires they cast a glow through the obscuring clouds.

Fleet search planes, which already have sunk or damaged approximately 290,000 tons of enemy shipping in enemy home waters, also were active yesterday. They sank a small cargo ship south of Honshu, and hit warehouses and railroad tunnels at Katsura harbor, south-east of Tokyo, fleet headquarters said in today's communique.

FRANKIE HAYES

WILL SET NEW RECORD TODAY

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Frank Hayes will set a new Major league endurance record for catchers today when he dons the mask and mitt for the Cleveland Indians against his former mates, the Philadelphia Athletics.

The 29-year-old Irish man caught his 217th consecutive big league game yesterday to tie the mark set by Ray Mueller of Cincinnati last year.

Traded to the Indians three weeks ago for Receiver Buddy Rosar, Hayes has been a potent factor in the tribe's recent spurt which saw them win four of their last six games to move within a half game of the sixth-place St. Louis Browns. Although batting under the .250 mark, he has driven in 2 runs and walloped seven homers, third high in the league.

Jim Bagby of the Indians hung up an 11-0 whitewash yesterday, spacing six Philadelphia hits for his second triumph of the campaign against eight losses. It was the Athletics' ninth straight defeat.

Newhouse Wins 12th

Detroit regained undisputed possession of the American league lead by defeating Washington 5-2 while the Browns were humbling the New York Yankees 9-4 in their third straight night contest.

Lefty Hal Newhouse, last year's top winner in the Majors, appeared on his way to repeat by registering his 12th victory, tops this season, and his seventh in a row. Trailing 2-1, the Tigers pounced on the Senators' Roger Wolf for a pair of markers in the fifth frame and added two more later. Detroit now holds a one-game lead over the Yankees.

Sig Jakucki handcuffed the New Yorkers for five frames and then coasted to an easy win as his mates pounded starter Joe Page and Steve Roser for six hits in the fifth. Vernon Stephens helped with his 13th round ripper.

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals narrowed the breach between themselves and the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies 6-1 as the Dodgers were losing to Chicago's Cubs 11-8. Ken Burkhardt registered his eighth triumph in limiting the Phils to six hits while the Cards hammered Bill Lee for five runs in one big inning.

Pirates Nip Giants

Six pitchers took part in the Cubs-Brooks slugfest, with Claude Passeau the winner and Leroy Pfand the loser. Harry Lowrey of the Cubs and Goody Rosen of the Dodgers connected for homers.

Pitcher Nick Strincevich and outfielder Al Gionfriddo combined to defeat the Giants for Pittsburgh, 3-1. Strincevich allowed only seven hits and was prevented from hurling a shutout by Nep Reyes' fourth homer. Gionfriddo had a perfect four for four, driving in a run and scoring another.

Chuck Workman's homer with one on and two out in the ninth enabled the Boston Braves to defeat the Cincinnati Reds 7-6. Jim Tobin helped his own cause with a two-run homer, his third, in the fourth inning. Tommy Holmes of the Braves hit safely in his 24th consecutive game.

The American league Boston-Chicago tilt was postponed by rain.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 29 (AP)—Most of the 40 or so college baseball coaches who'll meet here today and tomorrow are a bit warm under the collar from other things than the weather. . . . Two of their handicaps are the snatching of their players by professional clubs and the insistence of football coaches on having the boys for spring practice during the baseball season. . . . But the sponsors of the meeting, Eppy Barnes and Joe Bedenk, realize that they won't get anywhere by quarrelling with organized ball, with football coaches or with the athletic directors. . . . What they want to do is to make college ball strong enough to stand on its own feet before they tackle any of these long-term improvements. . . . The prospects look good, too, for every one of more than 100 coaches who replied to Barnes' invitations came out in favor of the organization and its aims.

FISH STORY

The Iowa Conservation Letter re-lays this yarn of how a retired farmer, J. B. Huisman, went cat-fishing in the Iowa river. . . . After a long wait, Huisman hooked a big one and had it near shore when a muskrat grabbed the fish. . . . During the struggle, the catfish escaped and the muskrat was hooked. Then the Huisman family dog jumped in to tangle with the muskrat and got himself hooked while the rat got away. . . . Disgusted, the angler hauled in the dog, rolled up his line and went home. . . . Poor guy—he probably had to eat meat for supper that night.

Six big league baseball scouts have visited Fort Benning, Ga., in the past couple of weeks. And you should see their faces fall when they realize that big right hander who looks so good out there is George Munger, formerly of the Cards. . . . Pfc. The Senators also won the curtain-raiser, 2-0, to stretch their lead over idle Williamsport to two and one-half games. Utica vanquished Binghamton 11-4. The Elmira-Saratoga, Williamsport - Wilkes-Barre contests were rained out.

How is Your SILHOUETTE?

Etienne de Silhouette was Finance Minister of France in 1759, under Louis XV. He urged the people to lead simpler lives in order to build a stronger France. Caricaturists came out with portraits featuring only the outlines of the head and shoulders. They called this frugal form of art a "silhouette."

Today America must watch its "silhouette." To combat dangerous inflation, our national economy must be reduced to the bare black and white outlines of a silhouette. We urge you to practice thrift for victory and security. Buy War Bonds. Build up your bank account.

Old Vienna Is Only Shell Of Once Grandiose Care-free Life

By A. I. GOLDBERG
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

Vienna (AP) — Vienna today is like an attractive grande dame who has been hit by a truck but is recovering with only occasional lapses into delirium.

Despite her wounds she still is able to pluck on a harp—at times feverishly, as if to drown the bitter memory of the low-born Austrian house painter she believes pushed her into the path of the truck. In moments of sober calm, she tries to tidy herself and hide her lacerations, while nibbling on starvation fare.

In her delirium she cries out against the Russians who pulled her from under the grinding wheels of war and imagines a young prince charming in the person of the Duke of Windsor is coming to set up a new government, and that young Otto of Hapsburg will follow him.

No Butter, Fats, Fuel
The old lady counts her blessings. She has cheap bread and almost half enough of it. She can get a bit of meat at the butcher's occasionally and perhaps a basin of beer at the wine shop, but she can get no wine and little or no butter, no fats, scarcely any fuel and only a bit of cloth.

She lost much through looting by the armies that swayed through the city. What was left in the way of jewels or trinkets she used to barter for bread or meat in the black market that the Russian military and the Austrian civil police have been unable to stamp out.

"I am always hungry," she mourns, and she remembers her famous pastry of days gone by as she crumbles her black bread and drings a cup of bitter substitute coffee.

One Church Undamaged
Karlskirche still stands undamaged. Throughout the war it was an always lighted beacon in the center of the Vienna blackout, to warn away British bombers.

But something died in Vienna's spirit when the Nazi SS men burned out Stefanskirche in the last days of the siege. Many who had not before openly hated the Nazis cursed them for that.

The Maria life Strasse, where the common people used to shop, is virtually intact, and the Gernsgross family's Kaufhaus der Wineres, a sort of Vienna Selfridge's, has been reopened, as well as many smaller shops with small stocks. But the place where the nobility used to choose luxury wares now is a heap of rubble.

Music for Bread
The buildings are shells around Prinz Eugen Strasse and the Hofmarkt. They got theirs in the black Monday, March 12, when American bombers screamed over the city for more than an hour.

In that raid the Luxor, Bristol and other luxury hotels were destroyed. Only the Imperial, where 75-foot deep air raid shelters had been built for Hitler's occasional visits, was left standing, and that is used to billet Russian officers.

More than 62 cinemas are operating again, and there are a half dozen plays, operas or ballets. There are symphony concerts which the Russian occupation forces attend freely.

"We want bread and they gave us music, and the Russians were right—it was just the thing the Viennese needed," one Viennese said.

Erase 500 Japanese In Southern Burma

Calcutta, June 30 (AP)—The Southeast Asia Command declared Friday that a force of about 500 Japanese had been virtually wiped out in southern Burma while trying to cross the Sittang river on rafts.

A majority of the craft were sunk, and only a few unarmed Japanese reached the east bank of the river, the command bulletin said.

Meanwhile, in Mawchi, 48 air miles east of Toungo, there were indications the Japanese were heavily entrenched and preparing to make a stand against the British mop-up drive. The communiqué said a report was received of an action fought by Gurkha troops in two feet of water against Japanese in the village of Nyaungkashe, west of Waw in the Moulmein railway near the Sittang river. The Gurkhas cleared the village after close and bloody fighting and enemy casualties were reported to have been heavy.

Discharged Vets Must Get Permits

Harrisburg, June 30 (AP)—Returning soldiers have a year after discharge in which to renew motor vehicle operators' licenses without re-examination. Revenue Secretary David W. Harris said Friday, but they need a permit immediately if they want to drive.

Harris said applications for renewal must be accompanied by a certification from an alderman, magistrate, justice of the peace or notary that they have examined the applicant's honorable discharge and the facts sworn to are true and correct.

The year extension applies to any person serving in the armed forces or any woman's organization officially connected with them but does not apply to the merchant marine, women's air ferry service or civilian air patrol. Veterans with infirmities must present physicians' certificates of driving competency.

Senator George (D., Ga.) proposes delaying a decision on this issue until negotiations begin on the American forces to be made available to the international organization to help keep future peace.

George told a reporter any condition written into the ratification resolution could only be regarded by other nations as an indirect amendment of the charter. He expressed belief that such a move would spawn similar proposals by many of the signatory powers.

In China

Chungking, June 30 (AP)—The Chinese High Command announced today that Chinese troops recaptured Luichow, former U. S. 14th air force base at midnight last night.

The recapture of the strategic Kwangsi Province junction city came after bitter fighting through its suburbs. The center of the city in flames for a week or more, was destroyed, the Chinese said.

The announcement followed an earlier official denial of what was termed a premature report that the city had been retaken.

The Japanese had been in control of vital Luichow since last November when the U. S. 14th Air Force abandoned the base.

Kweilin, more than 100 miles to the northeast of Luichow, which also was among the bases abandoned by the 14th Air Force at that time, now is directly threatened by other Chinese forces, who last were reported within 10 miles of the city.

A Chinese army spokesman said a Chinese force was being pushed down from the north and northwest within 10 to 18 miles of the city.

The Luichow airfield in the southern suburbs was retaken by the Chinese on Wednesday in heavy fighting, while the center of the city itself was in flames.

Philippines

Manila, June 30 (AP)—Gen. Walter Krueger's U. S. Sixth Army celebrated two years of unrelenting warfare against the Japanese by chasing enemy remnants deeper into the uncharted wilds of Luzon.

"On the contrary, having defeated the Japs many times before, they have supreme confidence in their ability to do it again and to keep driving forward until they have done their full share in winning final, decisive victory."

Praising the Army's skill and courage, Krueger said no general could ask for better soldiers and "I am proud, indeed, to be their commander."

The coroner said that statements furnished by police indicated that Mrs. Stevens was "under the influence of liquor and under a high emotional strain" when she fired three shots into the Norwalk youth's body but asserted that "the intoxicated condition of Mrs. Stevens does not absolve her from a charge of manslaughter."

Steiber reported chemical analysis on Albert's body showed he, too, was "definitely under the influence of liquor."

He arrived in the United States on June 11.

He has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters, European Theatre ribbon with three stars and a presidential unit citation.

His brother, "Al," is serving at present in Germany.

The theft, which Valentine reported Saturday morning occurred while he was sleeping in his truck about half a mile south of Littlestown. When he awoke, Valentine discovered that $850 was missing from his wallet.

Jacobs was seen in the vicinity about the time of the robbery, police say, and he is said to have been spending money for which he could not account.

He was arrested and held at Gettysburg, Pa., upon request of the Gettysburg detachment of State Police Sunday.

PHILLIES HEAD TOWARD RECORD IN GAMES LOST

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Phillies suffered their 51st loss in 68 games Friday, a 9-1 defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals. At this pace, the cellar-dwellers will lose 116 games, one more than the record of 115 lost by Boston's 1935 Braves.

Four-run attacks in the third and fourth inning won for the Cards. Del Rice, with a triple and two doubles, drove in three runs and scored two himself. Charley (Red) Barrett spaced seven Philly hits for his eighth victory.

Frank Hayes set a new major league record of 218 consecutive performances behind the bat as Cleveland handed the Philadelphia Athletics their 10th straight defeat. 4-2. Hayes helped beat his former mates with two singles as Allie Reynolds racked up his seventh triumph. Rookie Steve Gerkin of the A's suffered his seventh loss without a victory.

Tigers Lose Ground

Detroit's American league lead was cut to a half-game over the New York Yankees, when Marino Pieretti pitched Washington to an 8-3 triumph over the Tigers. The Nats hammered Frank (Stubby) Overmire from the mound in the first inning with a five-run assault. Pieretti made three hits and drove in two runs.

The National league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers also lost ground when they split a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs, the Dodgers winning the opener 5-4 and losing the nightcap 3-1. The division reduced their lead over the second-place Cards to two and a half games. A three-run rally in the ninth, climaxed by Luis Olmo's single won for the Dodgers. Hi Vandenberg gained the Cubs an even break with a neat four-hitter, a homer by Augie Galan spoiling his shutout.

Dave Ferriss, Boston Red Sox' rookie sensation, pitched and batted his way to his 11th triumph of the campaign. His nine-hit hurling and three base hits, including a two-run homer in the ninth, gave the Sox a 4-2 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

Walters Wins

The New York Giants defeated Pittsburgh 3-2, duplicating Wednesday's performance of tallying all their runs in the ninth inning. Clyde Klutz' double scored the tying runs and after Max Butcher purposely loaded the bases with two out, he hit pinch hitter Al Gardella with a pitch to force over the winning run.

Returning to the mound after a two-week absence due to a spike injury, Bucky Walters pitched Cincinnati to a 4-1 triumph over Boston's Braves, being robbed of a shutout by Chuck Workman's 10th homer. Tommy Holmes of the Braves got his 100th hit in the opening inning to give him a string of 25 consecutive hitting games.

The New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns were idle.

Thumbs Up Choice To Take Handicap

Arcadia, Calif., June 30 (AP)—It's Louis B. Mayer's Thumbs Up against the field in today's eighth running of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, if most of the experts are to be taken seriously—Thumbs Up with top jockey Johnny Longden on his back.

Thirteen of the turf's top performers were expected to face the starting gates for the grueling mile and a quarter race. The winning horse will return an estimated $83,100 to its owner; second place $20,000, third $10,000 and fourth, $5,000, based on the estimated gross value of the race at $119,200.

The attendance is expected to range upward over 65,000. Post time for the start is 4:42 p. m. Pacific War Time.

Label Nelson Man To Beat In Tourney

Chicago, June 30 (AP)—A couple of his colleagues held the lead, but Byron Nelson still was the man to whip as the $10,000 Chicago victory national open golf tournament moved into its second 18-hole round today.

Defending Champion Harold (Jug) McSpaden and Ky Laffoon of Chicago staged a par-wrecking job on Calumet Country club's 6,657-yard course yesterday to deadlock for the 18-hole lead with four-under-standard 68's, but Lord Byron was only a stroke behind with 69.

Based on past Chicago open performances, it was likely McSpaden, Laffoon and two or three others who finished with sub-par performances, would harass Nelson, who has been an also-ran in the two previous 72-hole meets.

TELEPHONES IN CABS

Pittsburgh, June 30 (AP)—The Yellow Cab company said today it is prepared to spend $200,000 to install radio-telephone equipment in its 300 cabs after the war. Edward P. Kram, secretary-treasurer of the company, said the equipment would permit phone calls to be made from a moving taxi.

400 Are Killed In Traffic Accidents

Harrisburg, June 30 (AP)—Four hundred persons were killed in traffic accidents on Pennsylvania highways during the first five months of this year, a drop of 20 per cent from the corresponding 1944 period, the state Bureau of Highway Safety reported today.

Bucks county, with eight more deaths than last year, showed the greatest increase in the state, while Allegheny and Philadelphia counties reported 22 and 15 fewer traffic deaths, respectively than in 1944 period.

Fayette and Luzerne counties, with an increase of four each, headed the 18 counties reporting more pedestrian deaths than a year ago.

Extension Of OPA Hangs In Balance

Washington, June 30 (AP)—The House was called to an unusual 10 a. m. Saturday session today to save the life of OPA.

Unless Congress completes action on one-year OPA extension legislation, and President Truman affixes his signature, price control and rationing automatically end tonight.

A plane stood ready to deliver the legislation to President Truman in Kansas City. He will sign it into law immediately.

In the race against time, the House was expected to vote by noon on the compromise bill that continues price and other stabilization controls and vests in Clinton P. Anderson, incoming secretary of agriculture, authority he says will enable him to break the black market in meat.

The plane, it was assumed likewise will carry bills appropriating $40,000,000,000 for the War Department and other government agencies that will be without funds July 1 unless the annual supply bills are signed.

To Furlough 4,000 For Railroad Work

Washington, June 30 (AP)—The War department announced Friday that 4,000 soldiers will be furloughed for work on U.S. railroads "to prevent a breakdown of rail transportation" during redeployment of troops to the Pacific.

The soldiers, all experienced railroaders in civilian life, will be furloughed for a 30-day period. They will work as brakemen, locomotive firemen, boiler-makers, electricians, car repairmen, mechanics, machinists and helpers.

Undersecretary of War Patterson said the action was authorized in response to an "urgent appeal" from the railroads for aid in easing a "critical" labor situation.

FITZSIMMONS QUILTS; NAME BEN CHAPMAN

Philadelphia, June 30 (AP)—Pitcher Ben Chapman picked up today where Fred Fitzsimmons left off, trying to pilot the Philadelphia Phillies out of the National league cellar.

Fitzsimmons quit yesterday, after two years of managing the club. General Manager Herb Pennock, emphasizing the Fitzsimmons' action was "voluntary," named Chapman as his successor.

The 36-year-old Chapman called his wife at a Montgomery, Ala., hospital, where she has been a patient for seven weeks with rheumatic fever.

"I hope the news makes her feel a lot better," he said. "I know the surprise certainly whooped me up."

"When I saw my big league days were ended, I went down to the Minors hoping to learn the managerial game. But I never dreamed of getting a big league post."

"Of course, the first step is a conference with Pennock and I won't have anything more to say until then."

Secured In Trade

Chapman joined the New York Yankees in 1930; spent 12 years in the Majors with a half-dozen teams and then went to Richmond to manage the Piedmont league club. While there he converted himself from an outfielder to a pitcher and last year joined the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Phils acquired him on a trade two weeks ago.

Pennock said he didn't know "whether Ben will continue as manager after the end of the season" or not.

Fitzsimmons left for his Brooklyn bowling alleys after yesterday's game with the St. Louis Cardinals, which the Red Birds won and boosted the Phils losses to 51 against 17 victories.

"Fitzsimmons is one of the finest men I ever met in baseball," said Pennock. "I knew he was nervous and discouraged."

He was hired as manager in the summer of 1943 when Stanley (Bucky) Harris was fired by William D. Cox, then president of the Phils. A veteran National leaguer, Fitzsimmons pitched for the New York Giants 12 years and was traded to the Dodgers in 1937.

Senate Endures 12-Hour Filibuster

Washington, June 30 (AP)—A 12-hour, 32-minute session that ended early Friday brought the Senate face-to-face with a decision whether to ratify ratify.

Senator Taft, (R-Ohio), and 31 colleagues representing both major parties presented a rarely-accepted cloture petition to limit senatorial debate.

Most of the free and unlimited conversation which began at noon Thursday centered on a controversial proposal to vote operating funds to the Fair Employment Practice Committee, a division of government which has a minimum of support from southern senators.

There were other matters—Senator Tom Connally's report on the United Nations Conference, final Senate approval of the long-disputed price control extension bill and a $38,500,000,000 War Department appropriation.

But the great bulk of the wordage was spilled on the FEPC proposition. Senator Bilbo, (D-Miss.), and a potent, talkative bloc of southerners opposed it on their contention that it spelled trouble between the races, friction in industry and governmental meddling in business.

Race With Death Ends In Victory

Philadelphia, June 30 (AP)—A wild 90-mile race against death in which three cars were required to speed a three-year-old boy to Philadelphia for an emergency operation, ended happily.

Robert Swendel, an electrical engineer employed at York, Pa., borrowed an automobile to bring his son, George, to a hospital here after a peanut had become lodged in the boy's lungs, threatening to strangle him.

After 25 miles, a tire blew out and the child was transferred to a police car. Twenty-five miles further, that car broke down because of overheating. A second police car, accompanied by siren-screaming motorcycles finished the trip.

Dr. Louis H. Clerf, who performed the operation, said the boy's condition is good.

SAY UNCLE

Chapter 6

Uncle Louis looked adoringly at Madge. "I'm delighted with you, my dear."

"Why?"

"Your attitude toward that article."

"Tell me, Uncle Louis," asked Madge excitedly, "when are you going to start working on that formula?"

"Directly after breakfast, my dear."

"I can hardly wait."

But Madge did have to wait until Uncle Louis had consumed a hearty breakfast, which was his first in over forty years. Naturally, in the eyes of Madge, he had eaten every bite, when they rose from the table and entered the house in eyes of Sin Low the breakfast he had served to the mysterious unseen guest remained untouched.

Uncle Louis thoughtfully tugged at his snow-white goatee, as he stood by Madge's side in the great gloomy hall.

"Now let me think," he said, "I've almost forgotten where the door to the basement is."

Madge laughed. "It's right under the staircase."

"So it is," he chuckled. Madge followed him to the door, which he flung open. He looked down into a pit of blackness.

"Dark, isn't it?" he asked.

"Shall I get a candle?"

"An excellent idea, my dear."

"And Madge was off to the den and back in a flash with two candles and matches. Uncle Louis proceeded to light them both.

"Better let me go first my dear."

Madge was about to follow his disappearing figure, when Magnolia appeared on the scene.

"Where you-all goin', chile?" she cried in alarm.

"Down to the basement with Uncle Louis."

"You can't—you mustn't go down into dat black hole!"

Madge became impatient. "Stop worrying Magnolia, I have a candle."

"Please, please," she begged on bended knee. "Please, mah baby, don't go down in dat dungeon with dat Uncle Louis!"

"Magnolia, get up on your feet!" Madge said crossly.

Magnolia struggled to her feet. "What you-all have to do down into dat basement fo?"

"Uncle Louis needs me."

"What fo?" she asked in a frightened whisper.

"I'm going to help Uncle Louis startle the scientific world and revolutionize the entire universe."

Magnolia's eyes bulged. "You is?"

Magnolia pulled her shuddering self together, headed straight for the telephone and, with trembling fingers, dialed a number. When someone answered, she nearly blasted his ear drum.

"Dat you, Dr. Bliss? Dis am Magnolia. Doctor, you come right over here befo' it's too late. No suh, I ain't sick, but my honey-chile is! What's dat? Where is she? She am down in the basement wid Uncle Louis. Who is Uncle Louis? He ain't nobody, 'cause he am daid!" Then she flared up, "Dat ain't true! You-all knows dat I never indulges in a drop! ### Growing Plants From Cuttings

Most woody vines, shrubs and trees, including both evergreen and deciduous, may be propagated from cuttings. There are two main groups of cuttings — those from mature wood, called dormant or hardwood cuttings, and those taken from the present year's growth and commonly called softwood or greenwood cuttings. The former are taken in late fall or during mild periods in winter and buried in sand to form "heels" or calluses on the butt ends before planting in late spring. Green cuttings are rooted immediately after they are taken in summer.

Under favorable conditions almost all deciduous plants can be multiplied from cuttings started between late June and late September or even slightly later in the fall. Too, certain evergreens, particularly varieties of arborvitae, boxwood, holly and retinospora, permit propagation from softwood cuttings. Of course, varieties of plants differ greatly in response to this method of culture.

In terms for beginners to understand, the principles of growing plants from softwood cuttings may be reduced to seven simple but important rules.

1. Choose shoots of the present year's growth and cut them off with a sharp, thin-bladed knife to avoid loosening the bark. Cuttings may be 3 to 4 inches long.
2. Make the cut diagonally through a leaf joint and trim off smoothly all the leaves except two small ones at the tip. These may be left whole or partly cut back.
3. Drop cutting at once into a basin of cool water or wrap it in wet paper or wet peatmoss to prevent wilting. Otherwise, plant immediately.
4. The best rooting medium is fine sand free from organic matter; the best container is any shallow box with a layer of sand about 4 inches deep. For large numbers of cuttings use a coldframe with the sash sloping to the north and a muslin upright frame along the south side to provide shade.

5. Moisten the sand, level the surface and tamp it firmly with a brick or other heavy object. Then cut a groove with a knife, trowel or stick and in this set the cuttings 1 to 2 inches apart. Firm sand well around each with the fingers, setting them to a depth of 2 to 3 inches, depending on the length. After the row is planted, place a straight-edged strip close to the row and tap it with hammer or mallet to settle the sand.

6. If a cutting box is used, cover it snugly with a pane of glass and place it in a shady location and cover with paper or burlap to shade; if coldframe is used, shade the surface in addition to the muslin shield advised above. Admit some fresh air daily after the first week to prevent molding. Syringe the tops of cuttings, including sand and inside of the box, to prevent dryness. On this point it is well to remember that cuttings draw their moisture entirely through the tops for the first few days.

7. After roots are beginning to form, ventilation should be increased daily until the cuttings are accustomed to open air by the time they are amply rooted to permit transplanting.

Pfc. William Carter Wears Battle Stars

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carter, Gettysburg, have received word that their son, Pfc. William S. Carter, 20, has been given two battle stars for his ETO ribbon as a result of his participation in the battles of Bastogne and Germany.

Pfc. Carter entered service June 11, 1943, and was assigned to an engineer unit. He went overseas eight months ago. He has two brothers in the service, Corp. Benjamin Carter, serving with a quartermaster outfit in Paris, and Pvt. Joseph I. Carter, Ft. McClellan, Ga.

LOCAL SOLDIER FALLS OFF TRAIN AND IS KILLED

Sgt. James O. Barnes, 30, husband of Mrs. Myrtle (Branch) Barnes, Gettysburg, was killed instantly Sunday evening at 11:50 o'clock when he fell from a moving train at the Reading Railroad station, Phoenixville.

As far as could be learned only Jay W. Pyle, Phoenixville, was the lone eye-witness to the accident. Pyle said apparently Barnes had been asleep on the train and failed to reach the steps of the coach before the train had made its stop and had started moving again. According to Pyle, Barnes apparently realized the train was moving too fast for him to get off and had turned to re-enter the coach vestibule.

As he turned, Barnes lost his balance and through the momentum of the train was thrown forward to the railroad tracks. The train continued on its way, the crew unaware of the accident.

Mr. Pyle said everything happened so fast he could not be sure if Barnes had been in the first, second or third of the rear coaches. Capt. Lester Fox, of the Valley Forge General Hospital, took charge of the body and said death was instantaneous.

In Auto Crash
Sgt. Barnes had been a patient at Valley Forge since October, 1943. He lost his left eye and left arm in an auto accident in September, 1943, several miles east of Gettysburg in which Richard Utz, Gettysburg, was fatally injured.

Sgt. Barnes was returning to the Valley Forge hospital at the time of the accident after spending a week-end pass in Reading.

Before his induction into the service in 1942, Barnes was employed at the Gettysburg Furniture factory and at Mechanicsville. He trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga.; Camp Butler, N. C., and Camp Pickett, Va.

He was a son of James B. and Minnie (Powell) Barnes, of New Jersey.

In addition to his wife and parents he is survived by about 15 brothers and sisters.

Admits Theft Of Furniture

Guy Emly, 67, Gardeners R. 1, pleaded guilty to burglary charges before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Wednesday, in connection with the theft of furniture and personal property from the home of Sgt. and Mrs. William Ingle, Aspers R. D. June 13.

The burglary took place, according to State Police who investigated, while Sgt. Ingle was overseas and his wife was living with her mother, Mrs. Clayton Guise, Biglerville, R. D. Sgt. Ingle, a carpenter with the Army Air Forces in Hawaii, is still on foreign service, and his wife is working at the American Chain Works, York.

The stolen property has been recovered and partially identified and will be turned over to the rightful owner within a few days, police said.

Emly was committed to the county jail without bail for sentence court.

NAME FIVE TO S.S. CONVENTION

Five delegates were named to the state Sunday School convention at New Castle, in October, by the Adams County Council of Christian Education at its meeting last Friday evening. The delegates are Charles Grouler, president, Mrs. Russell Grouler, T. J. Winebrenner and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bair, of Hanover.

The council met at the YWCA with the Rev. Dr. Ralph Gresh, conducting the devotionals. He said "we must teach the principles to overcome hate to our young people in the Sunday Schools and the church, to share the gospel of Christ with all and that God loves everyone, the white, black and the yellow."

It was announced that two new Sunday Schools opened in the county at East Berlin and Guernsey; that a 10-point program is being prepared for all Sunday Schools and that seven new vacation Bible schools were in operation in the county this year.

September 23 has been set aside as Sunday School day in the county and an effort will be made to have a 100 per cent attendance.

The next meeting of the council will be held October 23 in the local Reformed church. It will be a workers' conference for all county and district officers, the latter to be guests. Im Sassman, member of the state board, will be the leader and there will be a round table discussion of Sunday School work.

Change Dates For Officers' Meeting

The eleventh monthly Post Commanders' Conference, of the Third Service Command, with headquarters at Baltimore, scheduled to be held at Gettysburg college, July 11 and 12 has been postponed to July 25 and 26. The Gettysburg Times was informed by Colonel William K. Willemson, Director of Supply.

The reason for the postponement is "the illness of General Hayes and the present exigencies of the military situation."

BLUE ROCKS BEAT SPARTANS

The Wilmington Blue Rocks moved back into a challenging position for the Interstate league lead last night with a 5-4 triumph over the Trenton Spartans.

Allentown's Redbirds furnished an assist by nailing out the pre-series Lancaster Red Roses 4-3 to reverse Tuesday's procedure and enable the Rocks to climb within one game of the Roses.

York and Hagerstown, battling it out for the cellar, divided a twin bill, York taking the opener 10-5, and dropping the nightcap, 6-4.

Allentown hopped on the Red Roses' Tex Kadow for four runs in the first three innings and George Kooby, although nicked for 11 safeties, was strong enough in the pinches to protect the lead.

Sud Escock gave up 14 hits and four runs in hurling the Rocks to their victory, but his teammates manufactured the necessary five runs on eight hits to send the Spartans tumbling back into the second division behind Allentown.

BRONZE MEDAL PRESENTED TO SERGEANT COOL

Mr. and Mrs. George Cool, Emmisburg, have received word their son, S.Sgt. Clatus Cool, who has been stationed in Italy, has received the Bronze Star medal.

The citation reads: "For heroic achievement in action on March 9, 1945, in the vicinity of Chiesina, Italy. About 5 p. m. a faulty round of ammunition created a muzzle burst, fatally injuring two men and severely wounding several others. The explosion of the faulty round ignited the powder increments on other ammunition near the gun pit creating a serious explosion hazard. The fire caused by the burning powder was likely to attract enemy counter-battery fire as the enemy had direct observation over the gun position but despite these facts, T-5 Cool, platoon aid man, left his place of comparative safety and ran to the aid of his wounded comrades.

"Disregarding the dangers of the burning ammunition and without thought of personal safety, he administered first aid and help in evacuating the wounded men from the danger area. The courage and quick actions displayed by T-5 Cool are highly commendable and are in keeping with the highest traditions of the Armed forces of the United States. Maj. General Willis D. Cristenberger."

Brother In Service
Sgt. Cool has been overseas since April, 1943. He wears four battle stars and the Anzio Arrowhead. He is married to Ph. M. C. C. Bertie Mae Todds.

Sgt. Cool's brother, Pfc. Allen D. Cool, returned to the United States June 11 and is now at the Woodrow Wilson General Hospital, Staunton, Va. He was awarded the Purple Heart after suffering a leg wound in Germany. Pfc. Cool was overseas since January, 1945. While overseas he wrote his parents that he had twice met Joseph Adelsperger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Deven Adelsperger.

PACKED HOUSE PLEASED WITH SOLDIER SHOW

"Caliope Capers," an all-soldier variety show presented by the Indian town Gap Military Reservation post special services as a feature of the Seventh War Loan drive was well received by an appreciative and capacity audience at the Majestic theatre Tuesday evening.

Highlighted by the impromptu appearance of Miss Grace Myers, daughter of Mrs. Charles J. Myers, Chambersburg street, in one of the skits, the entire presentation showed careful preparation and was well handled by a group of well trained performers, several of whom had been professional entertainers prior to entering the armed forces.

Miss Myers, who will be a senior at Gettysburg high school next year, was selected by Sgt. Frank Borth to assist him in his side of debt casual duty. Much to the delight of the audience Miss Myers, who has future ambitions of becoming an artist, quickly drew a striking resemblance of Sgt. Borth and followed with a drawing of Borth seated at the orchestra piano. She had been asked by Sgt. Borth to make any kind of a drawing on the easel who stated he would add a few touches to turn it into a picture. The skit ended with Miss Myers scribbling a few lines over the paper and with Borth adding several waves to turn it into a woman with a high hair-do.

Enjoy Vocalist
Cpl. "Sonny" Woods, who appeared in a show during the Sixth War Loan drive, was perhaps the best received of the individual performers with his vocal renditions of "I Had a Talk with the Lord," "An Irish Lullaby" and "Danny Boy."

Cpl. Fred Kosayess, a talented and several slant-of-hand tricks including rope cutting and paper tearing. The tap-dancers, Cpl. and Pfc. George Monna and Samer Reeder, moved popular with a rendition as well as the performance of Sgt. Ted Lester who played a variety of miniature musical instruments. Quite a few laughs were forthcoming from the "Ladies of the chorus" dance. Pfc. Stanley Solomon mowed a number of imitations with a bit of clever comic performance. Cpl. Bernard Pickett played with his vocal talent. "I Wanna Get Married."

Chorus Background
Pfc. Delbert Smith and Cpl. Earl Austin, opened the show as pianists, the production having the background of a chorus. The concluding number of the program, "It's the Seventh," was sung by Sgt. Pat Noreto and the entire cast. The entire program was ended with the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the 230th ASF band.

In addition to the individual performers other members of the cast included Sgt. George Thompson, WAC Pvt. Wanda Kyle, Cpl. Edwin Lake, Pvt. Joseph McKee, Pfc.

BASS SEASON OPENS SUNDAY

Harrisburg, Penn., (AP)—The best bass fishing season in years is in prospect for Pennsylvania sportsmen this year with streams in nearly perfect shape.

"The state fish commission said today anglers will find the waters throughout the commonwealth heavily stocked with fish and bass season before Sunday, the season's opening day, plenty of bass should be caught.

Approximately 500,000 hatchery-bred bass were stocked in the rivers, creeks and lakes of the state last year and have had nearly a year in which to grow to good size, the commission added.

"If it's anything like the opening of the trout season," one commission official said, "it will set a record for the number of anglers out."

Statistically nearly 400,000 Pennsylvanians obtain fishing licenses each year and indications so far from issuing agents are that the number is just as high as ever with an increasing number of women taking up the sport.

"Our wardens have observed more women fishing," declared the spokesman, "but we have no way of knowing how many there are."

Returning veterans, fresh from European battlefronts, are also expected to be out casting lines while convalescent or hospitalized soldiers can get licenses free from any of the issuing agents. Residents of Pennsylvania still in the armed forces can obtain the same free licenses from county treasurers.

A stirring appeal for war bond purchases was made prior to the show by Lt. Jack Stettner, Brooklyn, N. Y., who told of his experiences as a B-24 liberator pilot while serving 10 months in China.

Prior to the opening of the performance Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the Adams County War Finance committee, announced the county had met two of the three quotas in the "Mighty Seventh" war loan drive and that he was confident the E Bond quota, of which there is a deficit of $173,320.50 would also be met before the close of the campaign.

County Bond Figures
He announced that the "snow sold" $1,182,225 worth of bonds.

On the county bond sales and quota Mr. Thomas gave these figures: Quota, $2,110,000. Total sales, $2,747,355. An over-subscription of $637,355. Quota for E Bonds, $550,000. Sales, $1,353,237.50. No details were included in the telegram. Bowser was stationed aboard a seaplane tender. The youthful sailor entered the service October 25, 1941, and trained at Bainbridge, Md. Later he was sent to Shoshone, Calif., and from there went overseas in February of this year.

A. IRVIN HOME IN BUCHANAN VALLEY BURNS

Fire destroyed the large two-story weatherboard home, and practically all of its contents, of Albert Irvin, Buchanan Valley, about five miles north of the Ithaca highway, late Wednesday evening.

The blaze is believed to have started from a spark in a chimney and was discovered about 11:30 o'clock.

Neighbors who saw the reflection of the blaze notified Mr. Irvin's brother, William, who lives about a mile away. He summoned the Cashman and Arentzville fire companies who found the structure a complete loss upon arrival.

The home, one of the landmarks of the Buchanan Valley section, was occupied by Mr. Irvin and his sisters, the Misses Ella and Blanche Irvin. For three generations the home had been in the Irvin family, starting first as a log cabin structure which had been added to in later years to make it a large modern home.

Used For Church
Prior to the erection of St. Ignace Catholic church the home had been used for masses.

No estimate was available today on the total loss. Numerous irreplaceable pictures and family heirlooms were among the articles destroyed. A new cream separator, purchased two weeks ago, and an electric refrigerator, were lost as well as nearly all household furnishings. Only a few articles of clothing were saved by the occupants.

A large quantity of meat was reported spoiled.

Spaniards were used in setting down adjoining buildings and the barn roof of which caught fire. The fire companies pumped one (clay) and made use of a second stream in preventing the spread of flames. The Cashman company had 2,000 feet of hose to the stream and played water on the barn and other buildings.

Mr. Irvin and his sisters are temporarily residing with their brother, William.

The damage was partially covered by insurance.

Issues Appeal For Tin Cans

An appeal to housewives of Adams county to prepare and save all tin cans for war salvage collections was made today by Dr. Eugene Elgin, chairman of the Salvage committee of the Adams County Council of Defense.

"Even during the spring and summer months when more fresh vegetables and fruits are available, we cannot afford to throw away a single tin can," he said. "The need for tin by our military forces is greater today than at any time since the beginning of the war for the reason that the nation's stockpile of tin has nearly reached the vanishing point and we are not able to import nearly enough to meet current military needs."

"With the redeployment of our troops from Europe to the Pacific greater amounts of tin are needed to supply canned railons, grenades, blood plasma containers, ammunition boxes, sea markers, blanket containers and many other things to our fighting men."

"Pennsylvania's tin can collections for the most part have failed to keep pace with its other salvage activities, and today tin looms as the most precious of all metals for war production purposes."

"For a time, there was some difficulty in obtaining can openers and that was offered as an excuse by some for not opening both ends of the used cans and flattening them for war salvage. At the present time, however, there is a large supply of can openers in the hardware and variety stores."

"We ask the housewives to prepare and save their cans, and we guarantee they will be collected and sent to war."

SOX PURCHASE OF CRONIN IS BIGGEST DEAL

By RUSS NEWLAND
San Francisco, Calif., (AP)—Baseball has furnished the sports pages with some whopping deals through the years, such as the time Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox purchased his present manager, Joe Cronin, from Washington for what was reported a quarter-million dollars.

The Chicago Cubs' purchase of Dizzy Dean from the Cardinals for $185,000 turned out to be a sour investment for the Cubs but on the other side of the ledger the Yankees undoubtedly turned the greatest deal of all in the matter of value received.

Their purchase of Babe Ruth in 1920 for $120,000 paid off in a cascade of golden dividends. For the Yankees, Ruth proved the greatest dramatic card the game has known and he obliged his new owners by leading the league in home runs almost steadily for a decade.

Among the minor league clubs the San Francisco Seals stand out in deals such as Willie Karmel to the White Sox for $125,000; Jimmy O'Connell to the Giants for $100,000; Paul Waner to Pittsburgh for $80,000, to name only a few.

In 1927, Cleveland offered to trade its outfielder, Fred Clarke, to the St. Louis Browns for the St. Louis Browns' catcher, Earl Averill. When the offer was turned down, Cleveland offered $100,000 for the three Seals. It too, was rejected and the trio went on to become for considerably more.

In 1934, the St. Louis Browns offered to swap their infielder for the Tacoma Cubs' catcher, Fred Haney, of Los Angeles, for $100,000. The Cubs, who had just paid $100,000 for Paul Carey, C. Tracy Smiley, Ph. and Truck Egan, decided they were Mike Fisher, owner of the St. Louis Browns, would go for $100,000. Although it meant a complete major league infield for a minor league catcher, the Browns refused the offer.

Capt. Harry O'Day, retired San Francisco policeman who played to the top in Europe's football professional baseball in California and Minneapolis as far back as 1886, members of the Cincinnati Reds offered to trade any five of its players to the Giants for Buck Ewing, star catcher and all around handyman of the late eighties and early nineties.

Just Folks

"In the good old days," my grand-sire said.

"In the good old days by lamps we read
And by ten o'clock we were all in bed."

"In the good old days," my father told,
"We didn't race through life—we strolled,
And sat by stoves when the nights were cold."

In the good old days, which I oft review,
We had telephones and autos, too,
And I think more fun than our youngsters do.

When silver comes to the youthful brow,
They'll learn what only the years allow.
They are living their good old days, right now.

Call For Diagnosis

One of my readers has spent well over $100 trying to check very poor cold operation of the engine of his 1941 car. I mention it because it will serve to show how unwise it is to go on a wild goose chase in trying to nail down car troubles. His car has no power when cold and when still running under 20 miles per hour. After the engine warms up everything seems to be normal. He has invested in a new coil, condenser, points and spark plugs. Carburetor and choke have been overhauled. The timing was synchronized and everything carefully checked. Well, almost everything. He will find that there is a bad air leak into the intake manifold, probably where the piping joins the block. The manifold could be cracked on the under side where it is not easily seen.

Around The Motor Map

We are told by AAA that a quarter of a century ago school children were dismissed in order that they might behold some passing automobiles. . . Now any kid can stand on the street corner and count hundreds of wobbly cars that are in process of passing from the picture. . . Automotive News of Detroit asks, "It's amazing how some people can make a profit out of what appears to be bad luck. I was reminded of this the other morning when a customer brought his car in for a job and had to be turned down because there were ten other people ahead of him. Instead of hitting the ceiling and then driving off dejected he parked his car down the street and came back to the shop to talk with the mechanics and other owners. He had been complaining of a strange noise in the back of the car and had thought he needed a new shock absorber. In the shop he caught sight of a mechanic greasing the sill of a rear door. That was the solution to the mysterious 'shock absorber' noise.

Just Plain Dilution

More and more the motor mail brings a big question mark in some car owners' minds as to how it happens that the oil level will actually increase. Many report to me that after driving a few weeks, following an oil change, the dip stick will report that crankcase contents have increased by a quart or two. Old timers, however, refuse to be mystified. They know this as a plain sign of excessive crankcase dilution. Water may be getting into the oil due to a leak at the cylinder head gasket. Or the oil may be diluted with gasoline resulting from constant escape of gas vapors past the pistons. I've checked into a number of the more persistent cases of dilution and find that in most cases the increased "oil" in the crankcase is gasoline which has condensed after having passed worn rings and cylinders in gas form.

Congress Must Solve Problem Of Entering War Under Charter

(Editor's note: This is the last of a series explaining what the United Nations is, what it will try to do, what remains to be done.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, June 30 (AP)—One of the most important things for the United States does not appear at all in the United Nations charter. It is this:

The organization's Security Council—we'll have a representative on it—can call upon the armies of the members to crush an aggression.

But who in this country will give the go-ahead signal for sending our armies into action?

Will it be Congress? Under our constitution only Congress can declare war. Or will it be the President?

Could he do it on his own hook? Would he need approval from Congress? Or what would be needed?

Needs Clarification
Our representative on the Security Council will, of course, vote only as he is instructed by the American government, either Congress or the President.

This is an extremely important and delicate point which must be cleared up. Congress will have to do the clearing. It seems certain to pass some law laying down the procedure.

But if the Security Council voted to call on the United Nations' armies to crush an aggression, would it really be a war in the sense we have come to know it?

If our army joined up with the armies of, say six other nations to mop up some fairly small aggressor, it hardly could be called a contest. But how large an army and air force and fleet would we put at the disposal of the United Nations in case of an emergency?

Size Poses Problem
We probably would agree to allow only some percentage of our total force to be used by the United Nations.

Even so, how large would it be? This problem hasn't been settled yet for us or any other member of the United Nations.

When it is worked out—our own army and navy chiefs will have a hand in it—we will agree to provide so many men and machines when needed.

Then the Senate must ratify the agreement just as it must ratify our joining the United Nations in the first place.

CROP OF WHEAT NEEDS STORAGE

With every indication of a bumper wheat crop to be harvested this year, H. F. Snyder, chairman of the Adams County Agriculture Committee, announced today that farmers are in need of a loan program to support the price of their wheat crop. "We are looking to loans on wheat stored on the farm because other storage facilities will be very limited due to eastern movement of grain through terminal elevators for export to war-torn Europe. Farmers storing wheat on their own farms have the same privileges as those with warehouse loans. Moreover, they can take advantage of any local price increases because the wheat is in their immediate possession," Mr. Snyder said.

Mr. Snyder further pointed out that the farmers can earn an additional storage allowance of seven cents per bushel, should the loan be repaid by maturity date. The loan rate varies by counties and is $1.55 for Adams county. This rate is based on No. 2 soft, red winter wheat with discounts for moisture, garlic and smut. The interest rate is three per cent. Present intentions from farmers indicate that Pennsylvania will have more loans than in the past.

Sets Record In Bond Sales

The First National Bank of York Springs, W. M. Weidner, cashier, broke all records, established during the six previous war bond drives, during the "Mighty Seventh" campaign with sales totaling $159,000.

Mr. Weidner said current sales are the highest made by his bank during the seven war bond drives. $105,000 worth of war bond sales to individuals were processed through the York Springs bank and the bank itself purchased $54,000 worth of bonds in the current drive.

In addition to the bank sales $15,000 worth of bonds were sold through the York Springs post office.

In explaining the sales Mr. Weidner said:

"We made every effort to sell bonds to everyone we came in contact with at the bank and in addition to that our employees continued to sell bonds after working hours."

COUNTY NEEDS $161,380 FOR E BOND QUOTA

Adams county is $161,380 short of its $700,000 E Bond quota in the "Mighty Seventh" war loan campaign. $180,040 oversubscribed in its $760,000 quota of other types of bonds, other than E, to individuals and $1,235,778 oversubscribed in its $650,000 corporate bond quota.

That's the situation in the county as the seventh bond drive nears its official close at midnight tonight. Bonds processed through July 7 midnight will be credited against the county quota.

Total sales in the county of all types of bonds to everybody is $3,364,533 or an oversubscription of $1,233,413, of $2,131,000, quota.

Set National Record
Washington, June 29 (AP)—The "Smash-Japan" 7th War Loan is the biggest of them all.

Bond sales have reached $21,639,000,000, breaking the previous record of $21,621,000,000 made in the 6th War Loan last winter.

The drive ends tonight. It began seven weeks ago, May 14, a few days after the defeat of Germany.

Although the 14-billion-dollar overall quota has been snowed under, not all quotas have been reached. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said in a statement "we still need every dollar that can be subscribed by individuals for E-bonds."

E-bond sales are $3,071,000,000, or 76.7 per cent of the 4-billion-dollar quota.

Individual sales, which include the E-bond, are $6,910,000,000, or 98.7 per cent of the 7-billion individual quota.

Corporation sales are $14,729,000,000, more than twice the 7-billion corporate quota.

The Treasury always has aimed at financing the war as largely as possible out of individuals' pocket-books in order to hold down the amount of idle cash during a time of merchandise shortages. The more cash there is, say the economists, the greater the danger of rising prices and inflation.

Here And There News Collected At Random

This story has been making the rounds locally for several days. Local undertakers deny that it happened at their place but, without confirmation or qualification, we give it to you just too darn good to keep. Here 'tis:

A local woman planned to attend the last rites for a deceased friend. On her way to the mortician's she stopped at a millinery store and purchased a new hat. One of those flowery jobs. At the mortician's door, not wanting to be bothered with a hat bag during the services, asked the attendant "will you take care of this package for me, please?"

When the curtains or doors parted for the opening of the service, our good friend saw her newly purchased and never-worn chapeau, resting among the floral pieces. She was dumfounded and perplexed but soon formulated plans to retrieve her hat. . . . she would join the mourners for a farewell look at the deceased at the close of the service, and recover her hat.

But her plan went awry. She was literally "squeezed" out of the mourners' line, and the mortician's attendants carried the floral pieces, including her hat, to a waiting motor vehicle to be removed to the cemetery. Still undaunted, and determined, our lady friend walked out to the cemetery, attended the committal rites and then stepped from view to wait until the mourners had left the cemetery. Then, dashing to the mound of floral pieces she retrieved her hat and went merrily on her way home.

As the story goes, the victim of this yarn, is said to have related the facts to one of her friends. . . . and as usual, it was too good to keep.

There may be a moral to this story: Never buy anything you can't wear for a hat, or give for a floral piece.

Bendersville Jail, Relic Of Olden Days, Had Few Occupants In Half A Century

By LEIGHTON C. TAYLOR

This story has to do with penal institutions generally, and with the Bendersville jail in particular.

Sometimes since the writer described in these columns Bendersville's many and varied enterprises (industrial, social, and religious), which functioned and flourished during the period popularly known as the Gay '90's, or, as characterized more recently, "The Horse and Bugzy Days"; and told how most of these activities, many of which had become institutions and landmarks in our little mountain town, gradually folded up and disappeared with the advent of the automobile, and the resultant rapid and convenient means of transportation to urban and populous centers.

Due to some inconceivable oversight, however, one of Bendersville's most interesting and continuing landmarks was omitted from my historical recital. It is none other than our symbol of law and order, the municipality's jail, or so-called lockup. That we have such an institution will, I am sure, come as a surprise, if not a shock, to readers of The Times who are more or less familiar with this peaceful community, and with the circumspect and law-abiding character of our industrious, liberty-loving, church-going citizens.

But the American jail, the counterpart of the English gaol, and the French jale, together with the High Sheriff and the Constable, always has been an important and necessary adjunct to the administration of justice. These buildings, in the counties, usually are located at the county seat, while a convenient and available site is utilized in the larger political subdivisions.

Distinguished Characters
No more romantic, tragic, and exciting episodes are to be found anywhere than are those which have become associated with the jails, prisons, the houses of detention in this and other lands. For a thousand years the Tower of London has been famous and notorious in song and story, and has played an important role in the lives, literature, and history of the English people. It is not only the repository of the Crown Jewels and Regalia, but within its ancient walls have languished, from time to time, for political and other reasons, some of England's most notable and distinguished characters. Among them, Queen Elizabeth while a Princess, Sir Walter Raleigh, and Ann Boleyn, and Catherine Howard, Queens of Henry VIII, both of whom were beheaded in the Tower and are buried beneath it.

Our own commonwealth's founder, William Penn, at the age of 24, was an inmate of the Tower for several months, imprisoned there at the behest of the Bishop of London who disagreed with Penn's religious philosophy. During his confinement Penn occupied the time with writing. His book, entitled, "No Cross, No Crown," proved to be his best and most famous, and is the only one that has survived and is republished from time to time.

"Pilgrim's Progress," one of the most widely read of all books, the Bible excepted, was conceived and written while its author, John Bunyan, (Please Turn to Page 5)

BERRIES BRING GOOD PRICES

Raspberries brought a high early season price of 35 cents a quart this morning at the Farmers' market, house and dressed chickens were not in sufficient quantity to meet the demand at 50 cents a pound.

Live barred rock cockerels sold rapidly at 35 cents a pound and the demand was greater than the supply.

Shelled peas were large and plentiful, selling at 25 cents a quart. Radishes brought five cents a bunch and lettuce sold at 10 cents a box or five cents a head.

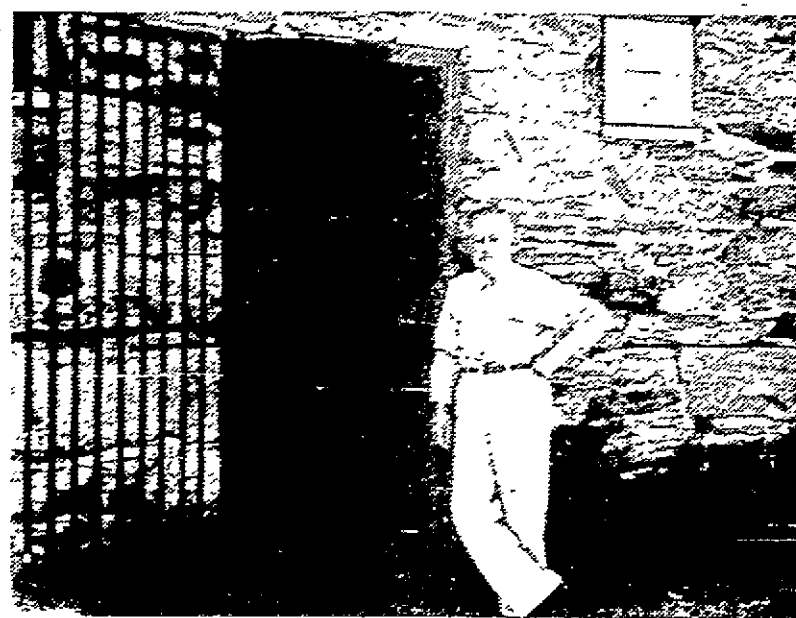

Spring onions were plentiful at five cents a bunch and met good demand.

Montmorency cherries were selling in small quantities at 25 cents a quart, but most of the sour cherries have been promised to processors and little are expected on the market this season, with the price ranging from 12 cents to 14 cents at the canneries.

Eggs were fairly plentiful at 48 cents a dozen and demand was fair. Wax beans and green beans sold at 35 cents a quart, peeled or 20 cents a quart, while unshelled peas brought only 15 cents a quart.

Friday night was the hottest night of the year with the minimum reading at 75 degrees on Dr. Henry Stewart's recording thermometer. Friday's official noon reading was 90, but an unofficial reading placed the temperature as high as 100 degrees in the shade, later in the day.

3 Rescued From Shangri-La By Glider And A Tow-Plane

By RALPH MORTON
Hollandia, New Guinea, June 29 (Delayed) (AP)—A hazel-eyed WAC and two armen companions were snatched sensationally to safety over 10,000-foot mountains by a glider and tow-plane in 30 minutes yesterday. They had been marooned 47 days in a lost valley accessible only by parachute.

Today, the same glider-transport combination will attempt to remove an American Army captain, a movie cameraman and eight Filipino troopers who parachuted to the aid of the castaways and built the airstrip that made their release possible.

At least two trips will be necessary, and the WAC, Cpl. Margaret Hastings, 30, of Oswego, N. Y., gamely declared she'd like to go back and watch the rescue of her rescuers from the valley 150 miles southwest of here. But go back to "reign" in the valley?

"No," she said, with twinkling eyes and a toss of her wind-blown hair. "The native women offered to make a throne but I refused. "What I want most is a shower and a permanent wave."

Cpl. Hastings, Lt. John B. McCollom, of Trenton, N.J., and Sgt. Kenneth Decker, of Keeso, Wash., were the only survivors of a plane crash that killed 20 Army personnel on the Orange mountain wall of the valley May 13.

They had been on an aerial sight-seeing tour of the strange area, which has been dubbed "Shangri-La" after the James Hilton book on a Tibetan utopia. Suddenly they found themselves—like the characters in the book—trapped in a place from which there was no apparent escape.

At headquarters here today they told their story.

Dazed and bleeding, they found themselves on the slope near the burning plane. Two other fellow passengers were alive. McCollom gave them morphine to ease the pain of their wounds, but both died within 24 hours. Among the dead was McCollom's twin brother,

Rides Bicycle He Used 50 Years Ago

W. C. Hanawalt, 333 Baltimore street, can be seen almost daily riding a bicycle—the same one he rode here from Roaring Springs just 50 years ago on Sunday.

Mr. Hanawalt rode here July 1, 1895 from Roaring Springs while enroute to a teachers' convention at Mt. Gretna. Upon learning the Buford monument on the battlefield was to be dedicated that day he decided to remain here for several days with a friend and attend the exercises before continuing on his journey.

The bicycle is in very good condition—dies have been replaced several times, however.

BOMBS WILL BE ALLIED ANSWER TO JAP THREATS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The old Shoguns are rattling their swords and playing the swashbuckler amidst all the settings of a buzz-saw melodrama as the Allied D-Day for Japan approaches—that is, it would be melodramatic if so many terrible actualities weren't involved.

We have something here that has come out of the middle ages, but it's no Gilbert and Sullivan opera. The Japanese government tells us that our invasion of the home-land will be resisted by every man and woman to the death. The Mikado's captain also threatens us with secret suicide weapons.

Well, what's the answer to that? First off, we can accept these threats as representing the intention of the war-lords. It isn't bluff. We know that there are many Japanese men and women who are ready to make a suicidal defense of the home-land. We know, too, that the Japanese have developed secret weapons, for recently several of them have come into action, including a new type of rocket bomb.

Can They Make Good

So Tokyo's announcements are, in fact, backed by some truth and plenty of determination. However, the important point to consider is whether they will be able to implement their determination to make good their threats.

We remember that only a few months ago Germany was declaring she would win with secret weapons—a claim which was treated rather lightly in some Allied quarters. But the Hitlerites did indeed have secret weapons which were nasty affairs—and they were on the verge of producing something much more devastating.

There was, for example, the projected rocket bomb capable of accuracy as a range of 3,600 miles. But it didn't get into production, and the reason was that British bombers damaged the German experimental stations and killed some 800 of Nazi Germany's best rocket experts. Before the Germans could repair this loss, the Allies knocked them out. And the lesson of the rocket bomb wasn't an isolated example. The whole Reich war potential was ripped to pieces with bombs.

This will be the answer to the Shoguns as well. The Japanese news agency Domei has told its public that American planes based on Okinawa are opening the battle for air supremacy over the southern home island of Kyushu, but that this is only a curtain raiser to the decisive battle of the Japanese homeland.

Tokyo boasts that Jap war industries are being shipped to Manchuria. That's a lie, because the Allies control the seas. Some industries were moved to Manchuria a considerable time ago—but not these days.

The Mikado's home domains are surrounded and have no way of escape.

Birth Announcements

A son was born at the Warner hospital this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Dean R. Gardner, 227 Sem-wah avenue.

Daughters were born at the hospital Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zimmerman, Gettysburg R. 5, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Valentine, Emmitsburg.

Eighth Jap Oil Target Bombed; Fear New Thrust

Manila, June 30 (AP)—The Allied fleet off Balikpapan, Borneo, is increasing in size, Tokyo radio said today, and now includes 41 ships plus "several" transports—twice the size reported by the enemy two weeks ago.

Under cover of "furious bombardments" Allied small craft approach shore to carry out "close and careful reconnaissance," related the Domei dispatch, monitored by the Federal Communications commission.

The broadcast was unconfirmed although Gen. Douglas MacArthur acknowledged today that guns of "light naval units" have taken up the bombardment of the oil-rich eastern Borneo coast.

Landing "Imminent"

Domei reiterated that an Allied landing in the Balikpapan area is "imminent," and said "since the night of June 25, enemy warships and planes have been engaged in a continuous reconnaissance of our coastal positions." Eight cruisers, 10 destroyers, minesweepers and subchasers "carry out furious bombardments against coastal installations," the dispatch added.

MacArthur said light naval units raided shore targets on Borneo, south of Tarakan island, at night, after combined Fifth, 13th and RAAP attacks Thursday dumped 281 tons of bombs on Balikpapan's warehouse district. The total bomb load dropped in the past two weeks is more than 2,500 tons.

The steady red glow of mounting flames at Balikpapan undoubtedly is not due entirely to attacks, however. The enemy doubtless has been sabotaging oil wells there as he did at Seria and Miri, North Borneo, petroleum centers where Australian salvage crews already are at work.

Allies Use New Oil

Oil wells on recaptured Tarakan, off Borneo's east coast, already are pumping fuel into Allied storage tanks—two months after D-Day.

In the Darao area of Mindanao, the first sizable haul of Japanese civilians surrendered to American troops. Associated Press Correspondent Richard Bergholz in a dispatch from Eighth Army headquarters said 75 Japanese women and children walked into American lines to be interned.

TELL PLANS TO LIST DEALERS

Plans for registration of sellers of used cars, used trucks and used motorcycles who want to charge warranted prices on and after August 1 were explained today by District OPA Director Walter C. Young.

"In order to protect buyers from illegal charges we must be sure that sellers who charge warranted prices have repair and service facilities which enable them to fulfill the conditions of the warranty. We have discovered that many sellers who lack facilities for making the repairs the warranty calls for are charging warranted prices," Mr. Young said.

Each seller wishing to charge warranted prices on or after August 1, 1945, should obtain an application for an "Authorization to Sell at Warranted Prices" from his War Price and Rationing board. In this application dealers must record information about their repair and service facilities. This must be mailed to the District OPA office on or before August 1, 1945.

Display Authorization

Sellers wishing to obtain "Authorization to Sell at Warranted Prices" must establish the facts of adequate repair and service facilities. They will be mailed authorization. No warranted price sales can be made on or after August 1, 1945, unless the authorization is displayed at the seller's place of business.

"On or after August 1, 1945, buyers should look for this authorization before they pay warranted prices," Mr. Young said.

All other authorizations to charge warranted prices, including special authorizations issued to dealers in the past become null and void August 1.

Guam, June 30 (AP)—The B-29 knockout campaign against oil plants on Japan was extended last midnight to the eighth rich target.

Raiding the enemy homeland for the second time in one day, nearly 50 Superforts bombed the Kudumatsu Oil Refining plant with high explosives. The plant, Nippon's fourth largest, is on the inland sea coast of southwest Honshu.

(Tokyo radio, in a broadcast heard by the American Broadcasting company, said at noon the same day B-29's raided the southwest area of Hokkaido island and I was damaged by interceptors.

The Federal Communications Commission heard Tokyo say that last night 10 "large enemy planes," sowed mines in the north Honshu harbors of Niigata and Sakata).

Heavy Destruction
The 21st bomber command, announcing the Kudumatsu raid today, disclosed that since the big bombers began hitting oil installations on Japan May 10 they have destroyed: 73 per cent of the Koriyama Chemical plant; 59 per cent of the Hodegaya Chemical plant at Koriyama; 45 per cent of the Otake Oil refinery; all tanks of the Tokuyama Naval oil storage facilities; 50 per cent of the Tokuyama synthetic fuel plant roof area and 32 per cent of the by-product storage tanks; 70 per cent of the storage tanks and 90 per cent of the buildings at the Oshima Naval oil storage facilities, Tokuyama.

Photographic assessment remains to be made of the damage wrought on the Utsube river oil refinery near Takachi June 26 and on the Kudumatsu plant last night.

Pre-Dawn Strike

The raid at Kudumatsu followed a pre-dawn strike Friday by nearly 500 Superforts at the big naval base of Sasebo and two other port cities on Kyushu and the industrial city of Okayama on Honshu which started such big fires they cast a glow through the obscuring clouds.

Fleet search planes, which already have sunk or damaged approximately 250,000 tons of enemy shipping in enemy home waters, also were active yesterday. They sank a small cargo ship south of Honshu, and hit warehouses and railroad tunnels at Katsura harbor, southeast of Tokyo. Fleet headquarters said in today's communiqué.

FIRST COUNTIAN IN TOKYO RAIDS WOUNDED; GIVEN HIS DISCHARGE

T. Sgt. Lawrence C. Strang, Jr., 20, believed to be the first Adams countyman to participate in the bombings of Tokyo, received his discharge from the Army Air Force at Ft. Dix, N. J., last Sunday and is now visiting his sister, Mrs. Robert Stoner, who resides at the home of I. W. Riegel, Orlanoma.

Strang took part in four missions over Tokyo as a tail-gunner of a B-29 bomber.

Disaster met the Adams countyman on his last mission over Iwo Jima, his 43rd, when his ship was struck by Jap fire on March 23. Four of the crew were killed while the ship was in flight and the pilot and co-pilot died as they attempted to get the crippled machine back to its base. Five members of the crew, including Strang, bailed out and landed on Attu, a small island occupied by the British a short distance north of Iwo Jima. The group was rescued by natives and taken to the British who returned them on a hospital ship to Guam from where they were sent back to the United States.

Fractures Ankles

Strang was wounded in the left shoulder and left side during his final flight and upon parachuting suffered fractures of both ankles on hitting the ground.

The youthful county airman entered the service on August 3, 1943, and trained at Shepherd Field, Texas; Florence, S. C.; Hobbs, N. M.; Fresno, Calif., and Savannah, Ill. He left for overseas duty from Seattle, Wash., in November, 1943.

For three months he served with the Eighth Air Force in England without making any missions. Then he was sent to Anchorage, Alaska, as a member of the 15th Air Force. From there he was sent to Italy where he joined the 15th Air Force, and then joined the 20th Air Force on Guam.

Many Awards

Sgt. Strang has received the Good Conduct ribbon, American Theatre, Asiatic-Pacific Theatre and European Theatre ribbons, Purple Heart, Silver Star, Philippine Liberation ribbon, Service Cross, six battle stars and a presidential unit citation.

A brother, Lt. Cmdr. Burton Luther Strang, is serving with the navy in the Pacific.

Sgt. Strang is a son of Mrs. Sarah E. Strang, Fountaindale, and Lawrence C. Strang, Waynesboro.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

It has been quite some time since I last wrote to you but I have not forgotten about you. It is also plain to see that you have not forgotten me either because I have been getting The Times very regularly and I want to thank you again for making it possible for me to get the home town paper over here in the E. T. O.

Now that the show is over, over here, I suppose the navy will be moving out. We have already started but when will leave is not known as yet. The duty of the navy at this particular base was to patrol the Bay of Biscay by patrol bombers. As a matter of fact this is the only naval air base in England although there is plenty of U. S. navy over here. Joseph P. Kennedy, son of the former ambassador to England, was lost or I should say killed in the operations from this base.

Today I am a bit tired after an 810 mile trip by air over France, Belgium and Holland. Some of the main points we visited were Cherbourg, Caen, Dieppe, St. Lo and Dunkirk, of which I think St. Lo was the hardest. The whole place was bombed out except one large cathedral standing all by itself in the center of city. The Army Air Force sure must have been pretty good to hit everything but the cathedral. All along the coast was nothing but large bomb craters.

France, Belgium and Holland are all very beautiful countries and I certainly would like to make a trip over here after the war just for pleasure. It would be worth any amount of money. In Holland the people must have had a wash day today because everywhere there were clothes out on the ground drying. They don't seem to have such things as a clothes line.

In Holland the land is really flooded like you hear about and doesn't look like a very nice place to live. Well not quite all of it is flooded but the part we flew over was pretty well covered.

The turning point of our trip was Rotterdam and then we were on our way back to England. On the trip back we passed over the White Cliffs of Dover which was quite beautiful. The entire trip lasted seven hours and I can be thankful that we were in a large plane otherwise I might not be feeling well enough to write this letter. After all it was the first time I had ever been up in a plane in my whole lifetime. It wasn't too bad, really.

Now that I'm back safe and sound I will only be too glad to re-

I'll close this little letter now by thanking you again for sending me the "Times." I would like to say hello to all my friends back there in Gettysburg. Hello everybody! Be sure you all soon I hope.

A faithful reader,

JOSEPH L. BOSAK

Dear Sir:

I wish to thank you for sending me the home town paper. It's really swell to know what's going on back home.

I have been transferred from my old outfit. I am now stationed near Donau, France. Had been in Belgium and Holland for a while and liked it up there pretty good. It really rains a lot in Belgium I don't know when the farmers get any work done.

The homes in Holland are much like our own homes in Pennsylvania. I was really surprised to find Holland such a nice place.

I must close now. Again I wish to thank you for the good service of your paper.

Sincerely yours,

SALE OF BONDS SKYROCKETING; E BONDS SHORT

While Adams countians continue to pile up increasing oversubscriptions in two of the three quotas in the "Mighty Seventh" war loan campaign, the sale of E bonds to individuals continues to lag.

Today's total of E bond sales thus far in the campaign is $521,567.50, a deficit of $178,412.50 of the $700,000 quota.

With only three more days, including Thursday, remaining in the official drive, and all next week during which sales will be credited to the drive's quota, members of the War Finance committee are hopeful that the deficit will be made up.

In the other two county quotas, Adams county is faring exceptionally well and continues to maintain its record established through the six previous campaigns.

Sale of all other types of bonds, except E bonds, to individuals the county total is $891,810, an oversubscription of $144,840.

The sale of Corporate bonds continues to mount, each day showing a substantial increase. Total sales to date are $1,866,478, an astounding oversubscription of $36,478.

No Time To Falter

Washington, D. C. (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau says a new life is beginning for the world, and "it is a time to rejoice," but—

"It is not a time to pause or to falter," because millions of Americans must still go into battle. "Our job," he said, "is to give them the fullest support x x x. The 7th War Loan drive is one test of that support."

"Let us make it an overwhelming demonstration to the men in combat that we, at home, are with them in full faith."

Morgenthau made the appeal in a broadcast last night. Meantime his War Finance division announced E-bond sales as $3,017,000,000, or 75 per cent of the 4-billion dollar 7th War Loan goal.

Sales of all types of securities to individuals were announced as $6,784,000,000, nearing the 7-billion-dollar individual quota.

Corporations have invested $14,492,000,000, making a total of $21,176,000,000 borrowed from Americans in the drive to date.

The drive ends Saturday, with the final accounting period closing July 7.

Closing of 4 Issues

Mr. Morgenthau also announced that subscription books of the four issues of marketable securities will close and the Seventh War Loan drive terminates at the close of business June 30. The four issues are: Two and one-half per cent treasury bonds, 1967-72; two and one-quarter per cent treasury bond, 1959-62; one and one-half per cent treasury bond, 1950 and the seven-eighths per cent certificates of indebtedness, series E, 1946.

Sales of the three issues of savings bonds, E, F, and G and of the series C savings notes will continue. Subscriptions of the four issues of marketable securities which are placed in the mail up to midnight June 30 will be treated as timely subscriptions.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Two romances, a clever plan for a bit of larceny, a score replete with tuneful melodies, and a production filled with color, girls, and laughs—these add up to International's "Belle of the Yukon," fast, funny and fabulous saga of the Yukon. Gypsy Rose Lee, Randolph Scott, Dinah Shore and Bob Burns star in this technicolor musical extravaganza, while that luscious group of lovelies known as the Yukon Belles are prominently featured, along with Charles Winninger in a gusty character role.

The action takes place in the little town of Malemute, where Honest John Calhoun (Randolph Scott) is not above a bit of thievery now and then. Miss Lee, as Belle DeValle, arrives with her troupe of entertainers, and instantly recognizes in Honest John the embers of a former flame. The last time he got away, but Belle determines that this time she'll hog tie him with a marriage license.

TUESDAY MIDNIGHT
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY

One of the hottest coming attractions scheduled to open Tuesday midnight at the Majestic theatre is Paramount's "Salty O'Rourke," an Alan Ladd screen sockeroo which already has drawn high praise from places in Hollywood. Alan co-stars with Gail Russell in the pounding story of a race track classic slated to raise audience blood pressure coming into the home stretch.

With Alan in the title role, it's a case of the Ladd gunning again for the chance to go straight after finding he's been put on the spot by a gambling ring of ruthless killers. Alan gets help from a winsome, youthful school teacher, played by Gail, whose honest love keeps Ladd from straying off the beaten path.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Ida Lupino who turns comedian in her latest film, "Pillow to Post."

Full of fluff and nonsense and as heartwarming as a spring day, Warner Bros.' latest comedy romance, "Pillow To Post," arrives Friday at the Majestic Theatre. Starring Ida Lupino, Sydney Greenstreet and William Prince, the farce comedy presents a screen full of shy kisses, sly glances and hilarious situations.

With a cast of supporting players that includes Stuart Erwin, Ruth Donnelly, Johnny Mitchell and Louis Armstrong and his orchestra, "Pillow To Post" concerns itself with the antics of a charming, lovable traveling saleswoman and with the innocent, but hilarious scrape she gets herself into in a soldier-loose army town.

PHILLIES HEAD TOWARD RECORD IN GAMES LOST

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
The Phillies suffered their 51st loss in 66 games Friday, a 9-1 defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals. At this pace, the cellar-dwellers will lose 116 games, one more than the record of 115 lost by Boston's 1935 Braves.

Four-run attacks in the third and fourth inning won for the Cards. Del Rice, with a triple and two doubles, drove in three runs and scored two himself. Charley (Red) Barrett spaced seven Philly hits for his eighth victory.

Frank Hayes set a new major league record of 218 consecutive performances behind the bat as Cleveland handed the Philadelphia Athletics their 10th straight defeat.

4-2. Hayes helped beat his former mates with two singles as Alie Reynolds reared up his seventh triumph. Rookie Steve Gerkin of the A's suffered his seventh loss without a victory.

Tigers Lose Ground
Detroit's American league lead was cut to a half-game over the New York Yankees, when Marino Pieretti pitched Washington to an 8-3 triumph over the Tigers. The Nats hammered Frank (Stubby) Overmire from the mound in the first inning with a five-run assault. Pieretti made three hits and drove in two runs.

The National league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers also lost ground when they split a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs, the Dodgers winning the opener 5-4 and losing the nightcap 3-1. The division reduced their lead over the second-place Cards to two and a half games. A three-run rally in the ninth, climaxed by Luis Olmo's single won for the Dodgers. Hi Vandenberg gained the Cubs an even break with a neat four-hitter, 2 homer by Augie Galan spoiling his shutout.

Dave Ferriss, Boston Red Sox' rookie sensation, pitched and batted his way to his 11th triumph of the campaign. His nine-hit hurling and three base hits, including a two-run homer in the ninth, gave the Sox a 4-2 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

Walters Wins
The New York Giants defeated Pittsburgh 3-2, duplicating Wednesday's performance of tallying all their runs in the ninth inning. Clyde Klutz double scored the tying runs and after Max Butcher purposely loaded the bases with two out, he hit pinch hitter Al Gardella with a pitch to force over the winning run.

Returning to the mound after a two-week absence due to a spike injury, Bucky Walters pitched Cincinnati to a 4-1 triumph over Boston's Braves, being robbed of a shutout by Chuck Workman's 10th homer. Tommy Holmes of the Braves got his 100th hit in the opening inning to give him a string of 25 consecutive hitting games.

The New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns were idle.

Extension Of OPA Hangs In Balance

Washington, June 30 (AP)—The House was called to an unusual 10 a. m. Saturday session today to save the life of OPA.

Unless Congress completes action on one-year OPA extension legislation, and President Truman affixes his signature, price control and rationing automatically end tonight.

A plane stood ready to deliver the legislation to President Truman in Kansas City. He will sign it into law immediately.

In the race against time, the House was expected to vote by noon on the compromise bill that continues price and other stabilization controls and vests in Clinton P. Anderson, incoming secretary of agriculture, authority he says will enable him to break the black market in meat.

The plane, it was assumed likewise will carry bills appropriating $40,000,000,000 for the War Department and other government agencies that will be without funds July 1 unless the annual supply bills are signed.

Thumbs Up Choice To Take Handicap

Arcadia, Calif., June 30 (AP)—It's Louis B. Mayer's Thumbs Up against the field in today's eighth running of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, if most of the experts are to be taken seriously—Thumbs Up with top jockey Johnny Longden on his back.

Thirteen of the turf's top performers were expected to face the starting gates for the grueling mile and a quarter race. The winning horse will return an estimated $33,000 to his owner; second place $20,000, third $10,000 and fourth, $5,000, based on the estimated gross value of the race at $119,200.

The attendance is expected to range upward over 65,000. Post time for the start is 4:42 p. m. Pacific War Time.

Label Nelson Man To Beat In Tourney

Chicago, June 30 (AP)—A couple of his colleagues held the lead, but Byron Nelson still was the man to whip as the $10,000 Chicago victory national open golf tournament moved into its second 18-hole round today.

Defending Champion Harold (Jug) McSpaden and Ky Laffoon of Chicago staged a par-reeking job on Calumet Country club's 6,857-yard course yesterday to deadlock for the 18-hole lead with four-under-standard 68's, but Lord Byron was only a stroke behind with 69.

Based on past Chicago open performances, it was likely McSpaden, Laffoon and two or three others who finished with sub-par performances, would harass Nelson, who has been an also-ran in the two previous 72-hole meets.

FITZSIMMONS QUILTS; NAME BEN CHAPMAN

Philadelphia, June 30 (AP)—Pitcher Ben Chapman picked up today where Fred Fitzsimmons left off, trying to pilot the Philadelphia Phillies out of the National league cellar.

Fitzsimmons quit yesterday, after two years of managing the club.

General Manager Herb Pennock, emphasizing the Fitzsimmons' action was "voluntary," named Chapman as his successor.

The 36-year-old Chapman called his wife at a Montgomery, Ala., hospital, where she has been a patient for seven weeks with rheumatic fever.

"I hope the news makes her feel a lot better," he said. "I know the surprise certainly wowed me up."

"When I saw my big league days were ended, I went down to the minors hoping to learn the managerial game. But I never dreamed of getting a big league post."

"Of course, the first step is a conference with Pennock and I won't have anything more to say until then."

Secured In Trade
Chapman joined the New York Yankees in 1930; spent 12 years in the majors with a half-dozen teams and then went to Richmond to manage the Piedmont league club. While there he converted himself from an outfielder to a pitcher and last year joined the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Phils acquired him on a trade two weeks ago.

Pennock said he didn't know "whether Ben will continue as manager after the end of the season or not."

Fitzsimmons left for his Brooklyn bowling alleys after yesterday's game with the St. Louis Cardinals, which the Red Birds won and boosted the Phils losses to 51 against 17 victories.

"Fitzsimmons is one of the finest men I ever met in baseball," said Pennock. "I knew he was nervous and discouraged."

He was hired as manager in the summer of 1943 when Stanley (Bucky) Harris was fired by William D. Cox, then president of the Phils. A veteran National league pitcher, Fitzsimmons pitched for the New York Giants 12 years and was traded to the Dodgers in 1937.

Senate Endures 12-Hour Filibuster

Washington, June 30 (AP)—A 12-hour, 32-minute session that ended early Friday brought the Senate face-to-face with a decision whether to ration oratory.

Senator Taft, (R-Ohio), and 31 colleagues representing both major parties presented a rarely-accepted cloture petition to limit senatorial debate.

Most of the free and unlimited conversation which began at noon Thursday centered on a controversial proposal to vote operating funds to the Federal Employment Practice Committee, a division of government which has a minimum of support from southern senators.

There were other matters—Senator Tom Connally's report on the United Nations Conference, final Senate approval of the long-disputed price control, extension bill and a $38,500,000,000 War Department appropriation.

But the great bulk of the wordage was spilled on the FEPC proposition. Senator Bilbo, (D-Miss.), and a potent, talkative bloc of southerners opposed it on their contention that it spelled trouble between the races, friction in industry and governmental meddling in business.

Race With Death Ends In Victory

Philadelphia, June 30 (AP)—A wild 90-mile race against death in which three cars were required to speed a three-year-old boy to Philadelphia for an emergency operation, ended happily.

Robert Swendel, an electrical engineer employed at York, Pa., borrowed an automobile to bring his son, George, to a hospital here after a peanut had become lodged in the boy's lungs, threatening to strangle him.

After 25 miles, a tire blew out and the child was transferred to a police car. Twenty-five miles further, that car broke down because of overheating. A second police car, accompanied by siren-screaming motorcycles finished the trip.

Dr. Louis H. Cierf, who performed the operation, said the boy's condition is good.

Chicago, June 30 (AP)—A couple of his colleagues held the lead, but Byron Nelson still was the man to whip as the $10,000 Chicago victory national open golf tournament moved into its second 18-hole round today.

Defending Champion Harold (Jug) McSpaden and Ky Laffoon of Chicago staged a par-reeking job on Calumet Country club's 6,857-yard course yesterday to deadlock for the 18-hole lead with four-under-standard 68's, but Lord Byron was only a stroke behind with 69.

Based on past Chicago open performances, it was likely McSpaden, Laffoon and two or three others who finished with sub-par performances, would harass Nelson, who has been an also-ran in the two previous 72-hole meets.

SAY UNCLE

Chapter 6
Uncle Louie looked adoringly at Madge. "I'm delighted with you, my dear."

"Why?"

"Your attitude toward that article."

"Tell me, Uncle Louis," asked Madge excitedly, "when are you going to start working on that formula?"

"Directly after breakfast, my dear."

"I can hardly wait."

But Madge did have to wait until Uncle Louis had consumed a hearty breakfast, which was his first in over forty years. Naturally, in the eyes of Madge, he had eaten every bite, when they rose from the table and entered the house in eyes of Sin Low the breakfast he had served to the mysterious unseen guest remained untouched.

Uncle Louis thoughtfully tugged at his snow-white goatee, as he stood by Madge's side in the great gloomy hall.

"Now let me think," he said. "I've almost forgotten where the door to the basement is."

Madge laughed. "It's right under the staircase."

"So it is," he chuckled. Madge followed him to the door, which he flung open. He looked down into a pit of blackness.

"Dark, isn't it?" he asked.

"Shall I get a candle?"

"An excellent idea, my dear."

And Madge was off to the den and back in a flash with two candles and matches. Uncle Louis proceeded to light them both.

"Better let me go first my dear."

Madge was about to follow his disappearing figure, when Magnolia appeared on the scene.

"Where you-all goin', chile?" she cried in alarm.

"Down to the basement with Uncle Louis."

"You can't—you mustn't go down into dat black hole!"

Madge became impatient. "Stop worrying Magnolia, I have a candle."

"Please, please," she begged on bended knees. "Please, mah baby, don't go down in dat dungeon with dat Uncle Louis!"

"Magnolia, get up on your feet!" Madge said crossly.

Magnolia struggled to her feet.

"What you-all have to do down into dat basement to?"

"Uncle Louis needs me."

"What for?" she asked in a frightened whisper.

"I'm going to help Uncle Louis startle the scientific world and revolutionize the entire universe."

Magnolia pulled her shuddering self together, headed straight for the telephone and, with trembling fingers, dialed a number. When someone answered, she nearly flung her ear drum.

"Dat you, Dr. Bliss? Dis am Magnolia. Doctor, you come right over here befo' it's too late. No suh, I ain't sick, but my honey-chile

Old Vienna Is Only Shell Of Once Grandiose Care-free Life

By A. I. GOLDBERG
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

Vienna (AP) — Vienna today is like an attractive grande dame who has been hit by a truck but is recovering with only occasional lapses into delirium.

Despite her wounds she still is able to pick up a harp—at times feverishly, as if to drown the bitter memory of the low-born Austrian house painter she believes pushed her into the path of the truck. In moments of sober calm, she tries to tidy herself and hide her lacerations, while nibbling on starvation fare.

In her delirium she cries out against the Russians who pulled her from under the grinding wheels of war and imagines a young prince charming in the person of the Duke of Windsor is coming to set up a new government, and that young Otto of Hapsburg will follow him.

No Butter, Fats, Fuel

The old lady counsels her blessings. She has cheap bread and almost half enough of it. She can get a bit of meat at the butcher's occasionally and perhaps a basin of beer at the wine shop, but she can get no wine and little or no butter, no fats, scarcely any fuel and only a bit of cloth.

She lost much through looting by the armies that swayed through the city. What was left in the way of jewels or trinkets she used to barter for bread or meat in the black market that the Russian military and the Austrian civil police have been unable to stamp out.

"I am always hungry," she mourns, and she remembers her famous pastry of days gone by as she crumbles her black bread and drinks a cup of bitter substitute coffee.

One Church Undamaged

Karlsskirche still stands undamaged. Throughout the war it was an always lighted beacon in the center of the Vienna blackout, to warn away British bombers.

But something died in Vienna's spirit when the Nazi SS men burned out Stefanskirche in the last days of the siege. Many who had not before openly hated the Nazis cursed them for that.

The Maria Ilse Strasse, where the common people used to shop, is virtually intact, and the Grossgros family's Kaufhaus der Wiener, a sort of Vienna Saks Fifth Avenue, has reopened, as well as many smaller shops with small stocks. But the place where the nobility used to choose luxury wares now is a heap of rubble.

Music for Bread

The buildings are shells around Prinz Eugen Strasse and the Hofmarkt. They got theirs in the black Monday, March 12, when American bombers screamed over the city for more than an hour.

In that raid the Luxor, Bristol and other luxury hotels were destroyed. Only the Imperial, where 75-foot deep air raid shelters had been built for Hitler's occasional visits, was left standing, and that is used to billet Russian officers.

More than 60 cinemas are operating again, and there are a half dozen plays, operas or ballets. There are symphony concerts which the Russian occupation forces attend freely.

"We want bread and they gave us music, and the Russians were right—it was just the thing the Viennese needed," one Viennese said.

Woman Is Charged With Manslaughter

New Canaan, Conn., June 30 (AP)—Attractive Mrs. Imogene Stevens, Texas-born wife of a U. S. Army paratrooper major, was arrested today on a charge of manslaughter in a slaying committed by her husband's account in an area of sex excitement.

Mrs. Stevens, 24, who has been held in Bridgeport county jail in lieu of $50,000 bond, was accused of shooting Albert Kovacs, 19-year-old submarine sailor, Saturday night after ordering him from the home of a neighbor, Charles Milon, executive of an aircraft parts company.

His name was included on a list of liberated prisoners released by the War Department.

George W. Miller, 409 Third street, Midway, brother of the airman, said that he has received a card telling him that Sergeant Miller was freed but has had no further word to indicate where he is or when he will be coming home.

His brother received notification from the War Department on July 14 that he was missing. On September 13, he was informed that the young man was a prisoner.

Before going into the armed forces he resided at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Miller, Jr., and clerked in the grocery store formerly conducted by his father.

THREE CAPTURED REDS TAKE LIFE

Fort Dix, N. J., June 30 (AP)—Three Russians captured fighting with the German army, committed suicide and seven others were wounded by gunfire yesterday as American soldiers with submachine guns, carbines, and tear gas, broke up a riot staged in a prisoner of war camp.

Major George R. Paul, Camp relations officer, said 154 Russian-born prisoners participated in the riot. The riot broke out in accordance with the Yalta agreement for reciprocal exchange of Soviet and U. S. citizens.

Driven from their barracks by tear gas, the rioters charged an American soldier guard unit with mess kit knives and clubs improvised from furniture, injuring three Americans. A prisoner was hurt as he tried to scale a wall of the compound.

The seven prisoners wounded when the guards opened fire are in the camp hospital. The suicides, found hanging from rafters after their half-hour riot had been quelled, were identified by Major Paul as 2d Lt. Sokoloff Kalinin, 2d Lt. Ignaz Masarenko, and Pvt. Philip Stotow.

MONDAY and TUESDAY

Two romances, a clever plan for a bit of larceny, a score replete with tuneful melodies, and a production filled with color, girls, and laughs—these add up to International's "Belle of the Yukon," fast, funny and fabulous saga of the Yukon. Gypsy Rose Lee, Randolph Scott, Dinah Shore and Bob Burns star in this technicolor musical extravaganza, while that luscious group of lovelies known as the Yukon Belles are prominently featured, along with Charles Winninger in a gusty character role.

The action takes place in the little town of Malemute, where Honest John Calhoun (Randolph Scott) is not above a bit of thievery now and then. Miss Lee, as Belle DeValle, arrives with her troupe of entertainers, and instantly recognizes in Honest John the embers of a former flame. The last time he got away, but Belle determines that this time she'll hog tie him with a marriage license.

With Alan in the title role, it's a case of the Ladd gunning again for the chance to go straight after finding he's been put on the spot by a gambling ring of ruthless killers. Alan gets help from a winsome, youthful school teacher, played by Gail, whose honest love keeps Ladd from straying off the beaten path.
